3 die in flaming plane crash in San Dimas

Officials probe wreck; rescue halted by fire

Three persons were killed Friday night when a twin-engine airplane crashed in San Dimas just off Arrow Hiway.

The plane crashed in a vacant field near Cataract Avenue at 9:41 p.m.

It burst into flames on impact and all three of the dead were still in the plane when authorities began probing the wreckage.

Sheriff's deputies could not immediately identify the dead nor determine the cause of the crash.

The plane was bound for Brackett Field from Los Angeles.

Sheriff's deputies reported that a young man saw the plane go down and tried to help the passengers, but could not because of the fire.

He left the scene without identifying himself.

The plane stopped only 50 yards short of a number of propane gas tanks stored outside buildings adjacent to the field.

The plane was identified as Piper Aztec twin-engine.

The L.A. County Fire Dept. has alerted the FAA who were to send personnel to identify the victims.

When authorities from Brackett Field arrived at the crash scene they said they recognized the plane, that it was a local craft and in all probability the people aboard were local residents.

Witnesses, including four teenagers, said they saw the plane circle in a 360-degree turn and thought at first it was a police helicopter until they saw its twin landing lights.

A firemen said that had the plane hit the propane tanks several blocks "would have been taken out."

The burned bodies of the victims were visible inside the wreckage.

Witnesses said the plane came down with its engines off, gliding as though the pilot was banking in an attempt to set the plane down in the field.

Billy Belcher, a nearby resident, said the plane hit the ground and exploded three times in 15 seconds after impact.

Belcher and a number of youths attracted by the noise attempted to fight the fire and reach the passengers, whom they could see inside but they were forced back by the heat of the rapidly spreading flames.

Police swarm in; capture suspect in 'death' ransom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police swarmed down on a man who dug out a parcel with $100,000 ransom in a covered trash container at the downtown bus depot shortly after it had been left late Friday night for a kidnaper called "Death."

The parcel was dropped there by police after a man calling himself "Death" phoned a television station and gave officers instructions where to leave a ransom in exchange for the life of a hostage he calls "Frank Robinson."

"So far we haven't found any hostage," said police Cmdr. Peter Hagan, who had made a televised Halloween night appeal to "Death." A man called within a half hour of the KABC telecast to begin arrangements for the drop, Hagan said.

Investigators said the unidentified man held for questioning didn't say a word when officers grabbed him, so they were not immediately able to compare his voice with that of the phone caller. He has not been booked for any crime, police said.

Apparently the man they arrested had walked up to the designated trash container, which was completely covered by a lid, opened the top of the can and immediately pulled out the parcel, investigators said.

The self-proclaimed kidnaper, who also claims responsibility for two deaths and the nonfatal shooting of a taxi driver, began his ransom demands on Oct. 20 with a phone call to the city desk of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner.

He identified himself as "Death" and claimed he had a hostage, whom he described as a "brown boy" named Frank Robinson. He demanded $100,000 from the city treasury.

"We really don't know if that guy (Robinson) actually exists or is a figment of his imagination," Hagan said, but added police aren't taking any chances. Hagan said he told the caller the money was ready.

In his Oct. 20 call the man claimed he was reponsible for the death of Max Kart, 60, a pawnbroker, and the wounding of Nicholas Miele, 35, a taxi driver who originally thought he had been clubbed by a passenger.

Doctors later discovered he had been shot in the head.

JACQUELINE WORRIED?

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, right, and a luncheon companion leave a Manhattan restaurant after lunch Friday. Caroline Kennedy has resisted her mother's request to come home after a terrorist bomb exploded outside her host's home in London last week. Caroline is staying in England to be near a boyfriend, according to London newspapers.

Ford testifies today in Fromme incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will give his videotaped testimony today on what he saw and heard when Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme allegedly threatened him with a loaded gun in Sacramento, Calif.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford has set up an appointment for 10 a.m. to make the videotape in the Old Executive Office Building. Ford will not have personal counsel present, Nessen told reporters.

But U.S. Attv. Dwayne Keyes from Sacramento will be on hand, along with Miss Fromme's attorney.

There was no immediate word on whether news reporters would be allowed to be present or whether they would be permitted to view the videotape.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride ordered Ford to give sworn testimony on videotape for Miss Fromme's trial.

Keyes, after conferring with White House lawyers, had argued against videotaping the President's testimony.

No president has ever testified in person at a criminal trial while in office.

Ford's deposition was requested by the attorney for Miss Fromme, 27, a follower of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson. Miss Fromme is accused of pointing a .45-caliber pistol at Ford as he was shaking hands Sept. 5 in a park area outside the California state capitol.

The testimony sought from Ford is about whether he heard a clicking sound that might indicate if the trigger was pulled.

Caroline won't leave London despite bomb

LONDON (AP) — Despite a terrorist bomb outside her host's home last week, 17-yearold Caroline Kennedy has resisted her mother's request to come home, London newspapers said Friday. They said the reason was a boyfriend.

The man in Caroline's life is identified as Mark Shand, 24, handsome nephew of multimillionaire Lord Ashcombe.

The London Evening News splashed a photograph of Shand and the daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy on its front page and said they danced all night at a society wedding reception.

The U.S. Embassy said it knew of nothing to substantiate the reports.

Both the News and London Daily Mail gossip columnist Nigel Dempster said Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis had pleaded with her daughter to come home after a terrorist bomb blew up last Thursday outside the home of Conservative parliamentarian Hugh Fraser.

House group OKs $7 billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House banking subcommittee approved on Friday a bill guaranteeing up to $7 billion in loans for New York City, $2 billion more than sought by New York Gov. Hugh Carey and $3 billion more than contained in a Senate bill.

The bill also calls for creation of a board of federal officials to oversee the city's financial affairs.

Approval came despite President Ford's promise to veto any bill giving aid to the financially beleaguered city.

The measure would permit issuance of $2 billion in short-term, 11-month securities. The federal board would authorize the loan guarantees. Its authority would expire Sept. 30, 1979.

A subcommittee lawyer said the $7-billion figure was determined after consultation with New York State officials, who reported that Carey's request for $5 billion was based on what he thought the Congress would approve.

Medi-Cal pays; 59 doctors in state get $100,000

One physician:
$348,387
for '74 fees

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Fifty-nine California doctors — led by a Los Angeles physician who received $348,387 — were paid more than $100,000 in Medi-Cal fees last year, state officials said Friday.

They were among 19,276 doctors in the state who received a total of $140,976,971 in 1974 from Medi-Cal, as Medicaid is called in California, the Department of Health said.

Medi-Cal provides government-paid medical benefits for lower income Californians.

The state released its figures after the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department reported that California had 59 doctors making more than $100,000 in Medicaid.

Federal officials said the California physicians were among 207 doctors nationwide who got $29.8 million in state and federal funds.

Dr. C.C. Dotson Jr., a Los Angeles obstetrician-gynecologist, received the largest amount in Medi-Cal payments, which placed him No. 2 in the nation, according to HEW, behind a New York state physician who received $451,156.

Dotson was unavailable for comment.

However, Health Department spokesman Bob Nance said, the state does not have figures on the amounts doctors working in groups received. He said state officials won't spend the $70,000 it would take to break down group payments to individual doctors.

Dr. Jerome Lackner, state health director, said in a recent interview that Medi-Cal rates should be restructured to give greater rewards to doctors whose caseloads are primarily Medi-Cal.

Edward S. Tucker, Los Angeles, $254,692; Sumner Bohee, Los Angeles, $237,933; Edward Holden, Inglewood, $220,204; Emilio Marquez, Los Angeles, $210,401; Peter Niciforos, Los Angeles, $185,666; Robert E. Haglund, El Monte, $171,475; Joanne Ewing, Los Angeles, $150,840, and Lloyd T. Hunter Jr., Los Angeles, $148,970.

The department did not have cities available for the other 50 individual physicians whose Medi-Cal fees ranged from $285,659 to $100,662.

One laboratory group, Medical Diagnostic of Van Nuys, received $474,350, with one unidentified doctor in the group, but Nance said the total could be split among any number of lab technicians.

The Southeast Medical Center of Huntington Park received $888,759, but it has 18 doctors for an average of $49,376.

University of California at Davis doctors — 227 of them — received $396,696, or an average of $1,748.

State gets go ahead to sell oil, gas leases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Thomas S. Kleppe announced Friday that oil and gas leases on more than one million acres off southern California will be sold next Dec. 9. The acreage has been reduced by about 25 per cent from initial plans.

The state of California, dissatisfied with what it considers Interior's excessive haste, has been urging postponement of the sale and has begun legal action against it.

But Kleppe gave final approval, only a few days after meeting with state officials, for the sale to proceed on some 1.25 million acres — reduced from an originally planned 1.6 million acres.

The reduction eliminated all federal offshore tracts in the Santa Monica Bay area, which is lined with resort beaches, as well as south of San Miguel Island, valued as a habitat for sea birds and wildlife.

Kleppe also established a no-leasing buffer zone, three-quarters of a mile wide, in federal waters just outside the three-mile limit of state jurisdiction, except adjacent to any state waters already leased for petroleum activities.

"Our decision," Kleppe said, "is based upon the urgent need to develop available domestic energy resources, and upon the legitimate environmental concerns raised by public comments and government officials.

"We therefore have decided to modify significantly the original proposal to afford extra protection for the scenic and wildlife values of the Southern California area."

The California lease sale, the first in a series of sales proposed for "frontier areas" previously unexplored for petroleum, has been the focus of a running debate between the Interior Department, on one side, and California, Alaska and many Atlantic coast states, on the other, over the terms and timing of offshore development.

The coastal states have sought more advance information on oil company offshore and onshore plans, and greater influence in management of these "frontier" developments.

The tracts to be leased off Southern California lie between Point Mugu and Dana Point, and seaward beyond the Santa Barbara channel islands, Santa Barbara Island and San Clemente Island.

The Interior Department also said it plans to authorize the drilling of two sampling holes in the ocean floor off New Jersey and Massachusetts in preparation for leasing in the Atlantic next year.

The U.S. Geological Survey said the proposed holes, more than three miles deep, would be aimed to sample the layers of rock and sand of the outer continental shelf, but to avoid actually hitting any oil or gas.

Shot-down plane on secret flight, Pentagon says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has admitted a Navy plane was on a top secret electronic spy mission when it was shot down during the height of the cold war.

But Navy officials said they found no credible evidence any of the 10-man crew escaped and were imprisoned in Russia. The Navy listed the crew dead in 1951, one year after the plane disappeared on a flight from West Germany over the Baltic Sea.

The Pentagon's response came after John Noble, once a prisoner in a Russian camp, and private detective Theodore Grevers said they believed at least eight of the 10 crewmen may have survived.

Grevers disputed the Navy contention that none of the crew survived the crash, saying he hoped the Pentagon admission would bring about the release of the airmen.

U.S. food stamp roll declining

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's food stamp rolls continued to decline in September, falling by 300,000 participants, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics released Friday.

Analysts of food stamp participation said the decline — to 18.5 million persons — reflected improvement in the economy since April.

The September decline was the largest one-month drop since the slide began and produced the smallest monthly participation in the $5.2-billion-a-year program since February.

The rolls had peaked in April at 19.5 million persons, almost four million of them receiving the aid because of recession-based loss of employment, officials have determined. The average monthly decline since April has been about 220,000.

'Star-spangled Christmas' theme

St. Lucy's plans 'boutique de noel'

The Lucians of St. Lucy's Priory High School in Glendora will present their annual "boutique de noel" Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the school.

Colleen Bonfiglio, president of the mother's club and chairman of the boutique, announced that the theme this year will be the Bicentennial theme of "Star Spangled Christmas." Lori Gallagher is co-chairman and assistant to Mrs. Bonfiglio.

The foyer will be decorated with Christmas wreaths, handmade tree ornaments, miniature nut and pinecone trees and a tree decorated in the spirit of a 1976 Christmas. Mary Hanks is in charge of the foyer arrangements.

The Home Shoppe, with Elizabeth Picard as chairman, will display needlepoint pictures, pillows and figurines, apothecary jars, baskets, candles and arrangements.

The Nun's Nook will feature clown dolls and baked goods made by the Benedictine nuns at the priory. The Teen Shoppe will be filled with goodies to make "every teenager's room a home within a home," according to Margaret Kelly, chairman.

Gourmet cookies, fruit cakes and candies will be sold in the Gourmet Shoppe with Annette Schwertner in charge. Ada Deal will coordinate sales of fresh flowers, tropical plants and house plants at the Patio Shoppe.

The alumnae, under the guidance of Lynn Mandala and Mary Lou Wurtman, will sell candy to fill the Christmas stockings. Robert Fryke, Dads' Club president, will coordinate club members selling hamburgers and hot dogs. The dads will also be in charge of traffic control, parking, cleanup and general policing.

The freshman class will sponsor games and the sophomores will be in charge of the "Bicentennial surprise," a white elephant shop. They will also sell pie and gingerbread.

The junior class will sponsor the craft shoppe and seniors will operate the pizza parlor.

Kathy Hall, art instructor, will exhibit her own and students' works. The French Club will serve French bread and cheese throughout the day.

Girls from the Spanish Club will assist Carmen Gonzales in serving Mexican dinners. Mexican dancers and singers will entertain during the day.

Other entertainment will include the Dixieland Band of Don Bosco High School, St. Lucy's Choir and the Little Theater Group.

Elizabeth Fryke, Margaret Hall and Sister Francita, principal of St. Lucy's will also coordinate activities.

Others assisting Mrs. Bonfiglio are Cecelia Soran, telephone; Kitty Mabie, personnel; Catherine Majich, publicity; and area chairman Socorro Ayala, Azusa, Baldwin Park; Mary Butz, Glendora; Bonnie Brogan, San Dimas and La Verne; Bridget Anderson, Covina; Mary Hanks, West Covina; Joan Schenk, Claremont; Jean Robson, Pomona and Ontario; Heile Bottin, Upland.

Proceeds from the boutique will go toward the athletic program and curriculum expansion.

3 face charges in theft of meat

La Verne police Thursday obtained felony criminal complaints against two women and a man who they have charged with the theft of meat from the Stater Bros. Market at 2090 Foothill Blvd.

The three are Anthony C. Evario, 33, and Nancy Segura, 21, both of 117 E. Pearl St., Pomona, and Rosemary Taylor, 33, of 704 N. Garey Ave., Pomona. All were charged with burglary.

The three were arrested Wednesday as the result of the action of a Pomona market manager who became suspicious after seeing them and a second man abandon a large quantity of meat they had gathered at his store, police Lt. Edward Morrett said.

The grocer, Raymond G. Gervais, 28, manager of Albertson's Market at 675 E. Foothill Blvd., said they abruptly left the meat in a shopping cart in his store. Suspecting a possible attempt to steal the meat, he drove to stores nearby to see if the four had gone elsewhere. Outside the La Verne market he spotted their car and used his own to block the exit as the four left the store.

Gervais tried to persuade the four to reenter the store but all suddenly fled, abandoning $161 in meat outside the market. Mrs. Taylor also left her 2-year-old son in their car when she ran, Morrett said.

The three suspects were rounded up a few minutes later by La Verne police, but the second man was still being sought today.

In Hearst case

Hearing for contempt witness postponed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A contempt hearing for Martin Miller, a reluctant witness in the Patricia Hearst investigation, has been postponed until Nov. 13 amid reports he's now willing to testify before a federal grand jury.

U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman postponed Friday's hearing after an oral request from Miller's lawyer, Jack Levine of Philadelphia. No reason was given for the postponement.

Neither Levine nor U.S. Atty. John Cottone would comment on reports that Miller, a 28-year-old teacher from New Haven, Conn., had decided to tell what he may know about allegations that Miss Hearst used an isolated Pennsylvania farmhouse as a hideout for six weeks during the summer of 1974.

Miss Hearst was then a fugitive on bank robbery and gun charges. She was arrested last month in a San Francisco apartment and now is undergoing examination to determine if she is mentally competent to stand trial.

The grand jury will sit in Harrisburg next Thursday and Miller could be called to testify on that day. Cottone, reached at his Scranton office, refused to say whether Miller would be a witness.

Ford ignores man who saved him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The man credited with helping thwart an attempt on President Ford's life here last month and the man wounded in the incident both say they are disappointed Ford didn't greet them on his return.

John Ludwig, the 42-year-old cab driver wounded by a ricocheting slug allegedly fired by Sara Jane Moore, said he had written back to Ford saying he would like to meet him Thursday when the chief executive visited San Francisco for a party fundraiser.

Leadership lab planned for 130 ROTC cadets

Over 130 men and women ROTC cadets of the Claremont Colleges will participate in a Leadership Laboratory today, from 7 to 11:20 a.m. The sessions will be held on the campuses of Claremont Men's College and Pomona College, and at Thompson Dam.

The senior cadets plan, organize and conduct all the activities during that mornng. The sessions will include map reading and land navigation classes; classes on the characteristics of the weapons in an infantry rifle squad; assembly and disassembly of the M-16 rifle; and tactical training of the individual soldier, which includes the negotiation of various land obstacles.

All cadets will participate in a physical fitness test. For the women in ROTC, the five events include: an 80-meter shuttle run, modified pushups and modified situps, an obstacle run, and a one-mile run. For the men, the events include the inverted crawl, run, dodge and jump, pushups, bent leg situps, and a two-mile run. There are 18 women in the program this academic year.

Lt. Col. John L. Schick, professor of military science, said there will be a total of eight laboratories held this year.

"These laboratories are the only time we teach students military skills," Col. Schick said. "The rest of the ROTC program is classroom instruction, which is academically oriented."

Chinoans vote on big school issue Tuesday

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

Voters in Chino will decide the fate Tuesday of an $8.5 million school bond issue that district officials say is critical to meet demands of a burgeoning student enrollment.

Some controversy has surrounded the bond issue, but Supt. Royce Lapp said this week he was "very encouraged" by campaign efforts being waged by parents, teachers and citizens.

The issue needs a two-thirds majority approval to be successful.

"We know it's going to be close," said Lapp. "We're not saying everyone will vote yes. But in our last bond election (for $10 million) in 1970, we won with 72 per cent. Our district was one of two in California that passed issues that year."

Lapp noted district officials are not "convincing" people about the bond issue so much as they are "showing the need for it." He added that the need is "so great" for more buildings to house a rapid influx of new students, that the issue is a "must."

Asst. Supt. Al Searfoss recently predicted a runaway enrollment jump of 50 per cent in the next five years. He projected that 5,000 new pupils would be added to the current 10,000 enrollment by 1980, and many new classrooms will be needed.

If the bond issue should fail, another attempt almost certainly will be made in March, Searfoss declared.

School district residents will be affected — if the bond issue passes — by taxes needed to pay off the bonds over a maximum of 25 years. The building bond redemption tax has averaged $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation over the past 10 years.

Officials predict no increase in the tax, but residents would continue to pay for a longer period of time on the new bonds.

The school board has approved a building plan that would be used if the bond issue passes. The southwest area of Chino would receive earliest benefits from the issue in that 11 classrooms would be added immediately to Los Serranos Elementary School and seven to Glenmeade.

Purchase of a junior high school site in the southwest area also was a high priority item in the approved plans.

In addition, an elementary site at an unnamed location would be procured; Don Lugo High would be expanded to full capacity; and a half-size elementary school is scheduled for construction in an area where needed.

All district elementary schools will be expanded as needed, with the exception of Gird.

Among groups favoring the bond issue, Associated Chino Teachers, the largest district teacher organization, and Chino city councilmen have endorsed the measure. Chino Federation of Teachers, the union, voted to remain neutral, leaving the decision to each individual teacher.

Citizens for Improved Education (CIE), an anti-year-round school group, have opposed the bond issue privately, but did not work actively to defeat it. The group originally declined to favor it because all students were not being enrolled in the traditional program, but waiting lists have since been eliminated.

"There are many reasons the bond issue shouldn't be passed," said CIE President Gladys Briggs. "However, we haven't worked to defeat the measure."

Lapp said he doubted if CIE's opposition has had any effect on the bonds. "They haven't said much publicly although they may have said some things privately."

Pomona chamber working on proposals to reduce crime

Community leaders, working through a Pomona Chamber of Commerce committee, are quietly assembling plans for reducing and controlling crime in Pomona.

The committee, chaired by City Councilman Benjamin Ochoa, is presently gathering crime statistics and other information, ideas and proposals for study.

Although he declined to discuss any of the specific proposals talked about by the committee thus far, Ochoa said the committee is serious about formulating a comprehensive anti-crime program for implementation within a few weeks or months.

"There is a lot of enthusiasm and we don't want to waste time," said Ochoa.

One of the primary goals of committee, Ochoa explained, will be to stimulate citizen participation in reducing crime.

That goal may have been at least partially fulfilled with the sudden growth of the Pomona California Community Alert Patrol (C-CAP), a group now totaling several hundred persons intent on organizing Pomona citizens.

While the C-CAP volunteers have not been officially endorsed by the committee, Ochoa said committee members are interested in finding out more about the program.

Larry States, commander of the C-CAP group, has been invited to attend the next meeting of the committee on Nov. 5.

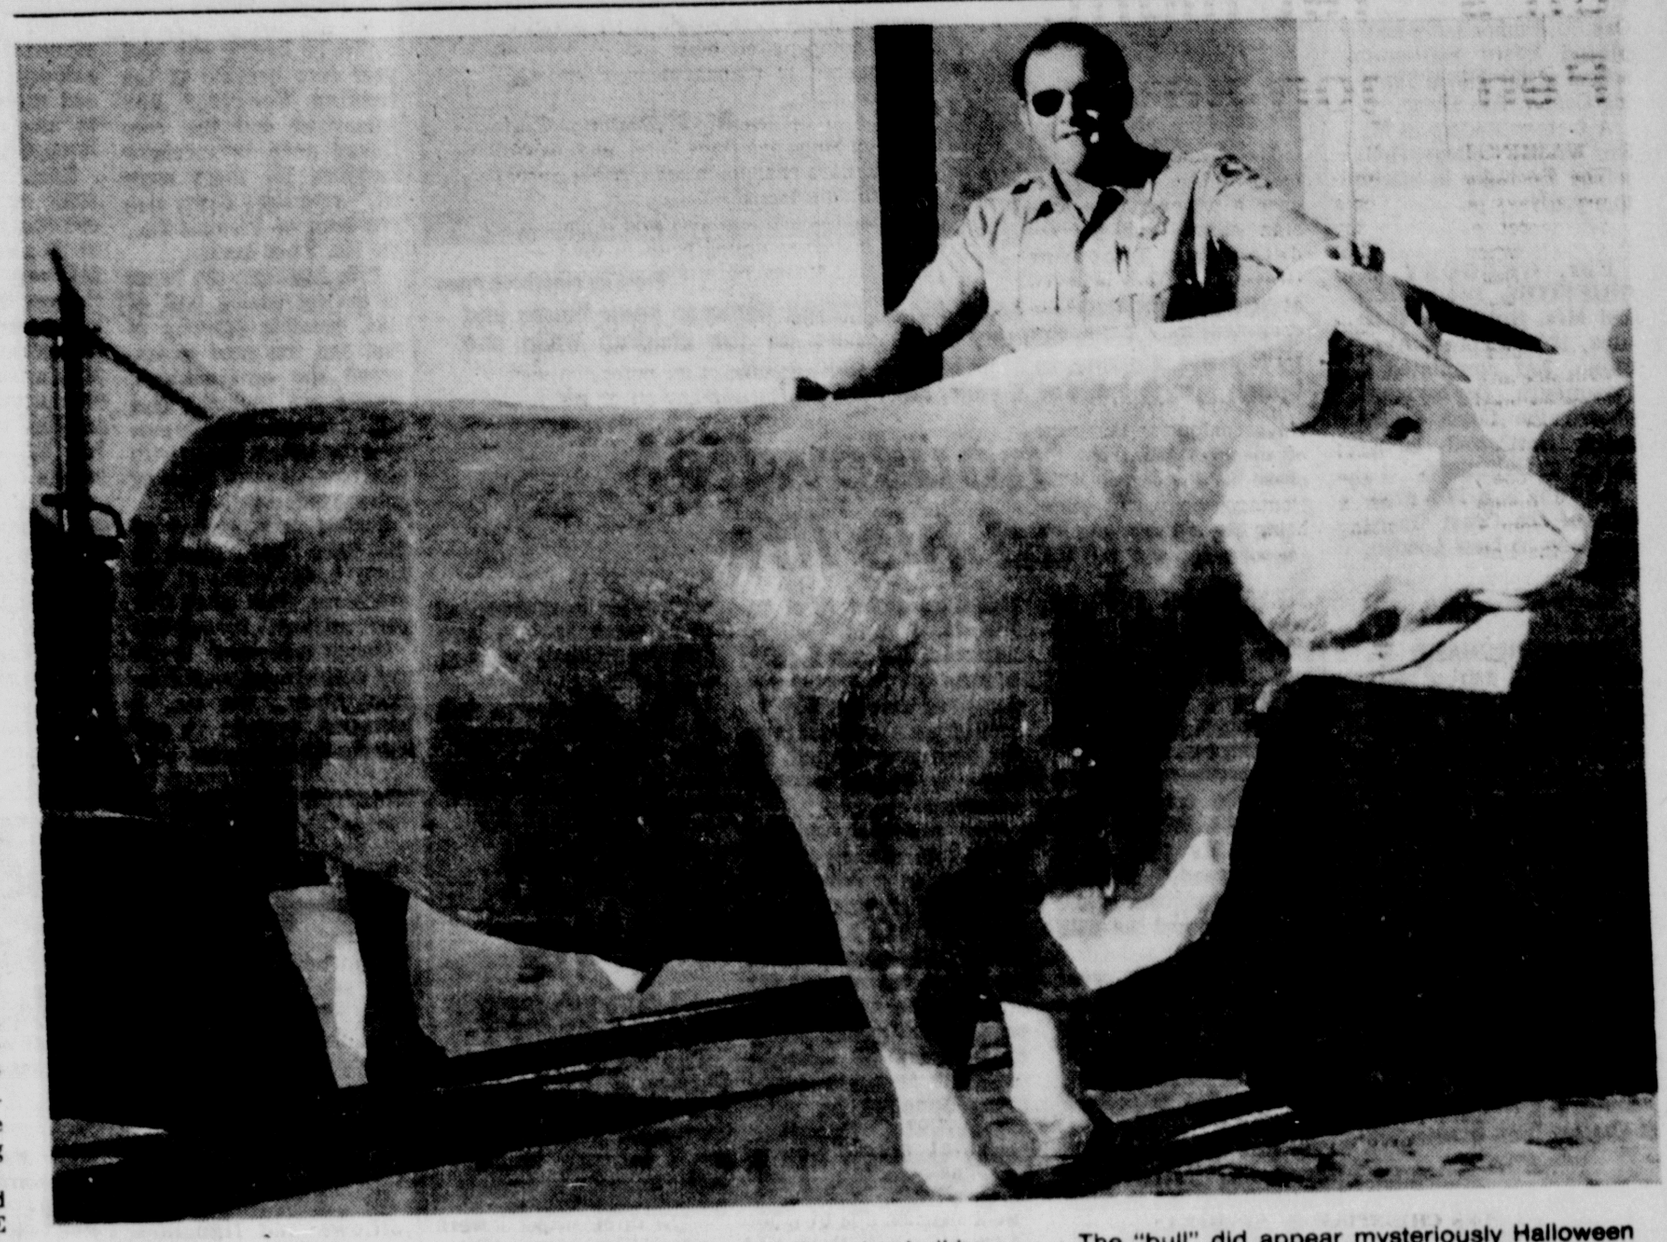

At that meeting, said Ochoa, committee members are expected to make individual recommendations, each of which will then be studied and reviewed by the committee for possible use in Pomona.

In addition to Ochoa, other members of the committee are Councilman Charles Bader, City Administrator Jerrold Gonce, Pomona school board members Mary Montez and Charles Braswell, chamber Vice President Frank Carr, and chamber director Bernie Ously.

Others have also been invited to participate, including Larry Rubin, director of the Pomona Valley Juvenile Diversion Project and Bob Bush, general manager of The Progress Bulletin.

The committee is a result of a leadership conference held last March at Rancho California. Members of the City Council, school board and chamber were in attendance and it was mutually agreed that crime was the key problem facing the community.

During the summer the committee began to take shape and held its initial meeting last month.

A LOT OF BULL

What appears to be a grand champion bull being held by West End Sheriff's Deputy Paul Kellner is really only 50 pounds of molded plastic.

The "bull" did appear mysteriously Halloween morning on the top of a most unlikely place — the Alta Loma High School gymnasium roof.

Dual salary for city exec questioned

Pomona City Councilman Adrian Wright has criticized Joe Korpsak, assistant city administrator in Pomona and executive officer of the Valley Association of Cities (VAC), for receiving pay for both jobs.

Wright made the remarks at Monday's City Council meeting, but would not say there was anything inappropriate about the payments.

According to City Administrator Jerrold Gonce, Korpsak has more than fulfilled his responsibilities with the city.

He said he was satisfied that there had been nothing inappropriate about the payments to Korpsak in his city position, which pays about $1,600 per month.

As the executive officer of the VAC, which is being destaffed effective Dec. 31, Korpsak has received $1,000 per month.

Sierra Club opposed to water plan

The Los Angeles County chapter of the Sierra Club has come out in opposition to the proposed $35 million water bond issue which will be on the ballot in Tuesday's election.

Nearly 100,000 persons in the eastern end of Los Angeles county are eligible to cast ballots.

Robin Ives, chairman of the 20,000 member chapter, said the Sierra Club was opposed to the proposition "because no adequate reasons have been offered to justify the bonds at this time."

Farm worker is shot by his dog

HALIFAX, England (AP) — Farm worker Michael Kelly was shot in the chest today by his red setter, police said.

Kelly had put his shotgun on top of a wall at a farm near here while he climbed over. The dog scrambled up at the same time, and its paw hit the trigger, officers said.

Kelly managed to stagger back to the farmhouse and was taken to a hospital, where his condition was said to be satisfactory.

Defense of three killing suspects due

The defense in the kidnaping and murder trial of three reputed motorcycle gang members is scheduled to begin Tuesday when the case resumes in Los Angeles Superior Court.

The three are Donald Kelso, 25, of Ontario; Charles Evans, 34, of Lawndale; and David Dupres, 19, of Torrance. The three are accused of murdering one man, kidnaping and murdering a second and trying to murder a third in a raid on an Industry motorcycle shop Feb. 5.

A fourth man, Gregory White, 20, of Hacienda Heights, already has been convicted of the charges as the result of an earlier separate trial. He faces sentencing Nov. 21.

On high school roof, there's always a surprise for deputies

Deputies are wondering what they'll find on the rooftop of the Alta Loma High School gym this weekend.

So far, they've taken down a bull, a rooster, a man and a hamburger, all made of plastic and all stolen from restaurants, drive-ins, and gas stations.

They think a group of juveniles have been stealing the plastic signs from businesses around the area as a prank.

But with Halloween night just over, there is no telling what may have hit the roof by now.

The latest creature to appear was the seven-foot long plastic bull, weighing about 50 pounds that was found early Halloween morning.

Three weeks ago, the 300-pound "Bob" of the Bob's Big Boy Restaurant in Ontario, was found still holding his hamburger on top of the gym. Next came a large plastic rooster stolen from a drive-in, followed by the appearance of a Union 76 Plastic ball.

"What gets me," said one deputy, "Is how the pranksters are managing to carry the objects over three fences on to the school grounds and up onto the roof without being noticed by anyone."

Stakeouts by school personnel have thus far proven fruitless. "But, we'll catch 'em yet," said the deputy.

Woman is arraigned in slaying of off-duty cop

Mrs. Frances Lou Staats, 37-year-old woman accused of murdering an off-duty Los Angeles motorcycle officer in Pomona Sept. 22, has been arraigned in Pomona Superior Court.

Mrs. Staats, of La Verne, was arrested on suspicion of murder after the officer, Robert Eugene Kearns, 41, died in the emergency room of Pomona Valley Community Hospital after having been shot a few minutes earlier in the chest.

Police said Kearns had taken Mrs. Staats, a divorcee, to the hospital for treatment of a possible drug overdose. They said the couple argued outside in Kearns' car and the policeman was shot with his own off-duty weapon, a short-barrelled .38-caliber revolver.

Mrs. Staats was arraigned before Pomona Superior Court Judge Howard D. McClain who scheduled her pretrial hearing for Jan. 12. She is free on $5,000 bail.

Mrs. Staats was bound over to Superior Court for trial earlier this month at a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court which was closed to the press and public.

Car sales up again

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today its car sales in early October rose 16 per cent from last year, and American Motors Corp. reported a 25 per cent sales hike from the same 1974 period, when its deliveries were depressed by a nationwide strike.

Volunteers praised for getting crusade off to a 'flying start'

The mobilization division has played a principal role in a successful beginning for the United Crusade 1975 campaign in the San Gabriel and Pomona Valley's Region II, said regional Chairman Howard P. Allen this week.

Allen, executive vice president of Southern California Edison Co., attributed the "flying start" to the efforts of Barbara L. Wishart, civic worker and chairman of the regional mobilization division, and the host of volunteers in that division.

Volunteers mailed pledge cards to former donors, assembled material, stuffed envelopes, set up telephone campaigns at the Huntington Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena and McKinely Home for Boys in San Dimas. More than 15,000 contacts were made to United Crusade supporters during September.

Followup mailings to the telephone campaigns are now being assembled at regional headquarters of United Way in Arcadia. Door knob hanger campaigns involving the leaving of United Crusade kits at residences throughout the region will begin soon with volunteers from Campfire Girls, Bluebirds, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and other youth groups.

Retired officer killed in crash

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — A retired Los Angeles police officer has been killed in a fiery accident near here.

Authorities said Charles R. Wise, 56, died in the accident Tuesday after his camper truck overturned and burst into flames on Interstate 15 in Cajon Pass.

Wise, accident investigators said, had been honored at a retirement dinner Saturday.

sleep pills hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans spend over $50 billion each year on nonprescription sleeping and calming aids, but the drugs' effects are weak and overuse is potentially harmful, a panel of scientists says.

Council reverses planners, citizen gets fence

John Birkett by a narrow 3-2 Claremont City Council vote has received permission to build a four-foot-high chain link fence atop the three-foot-high cinder block wall he constructed in the public right-of-way in front of his home at 895 W. Arrow Highway, Claremont.

The vote would have been unanimous but Mayor Bertye Smith and Councilman Richard Newton thought that Birkett should adorn the new fence with some type of landscaping.

Councilman Frank Hungerford refused to add the landscaping requirement to his motion which gained support from Councilwomen Claire McDonald and Eleanor Cohen.

When the county widened Arrow Highway, it built two separate walls: a 36-to 40-inch retaining wall within the public right-of-way next to the sidewalk, and a six-foot wall on the sideyard property line for those homes in Piedmont and Princeton avenues.

Rather than have the county do the work, Birkett decided to do it himself, and obtained permission to put up a cinder block wall at the edge of the sidewalk.

He asked the Planning Commission for a variance allowing him to place a six-foot-high fence on top of the wall, because children walk on the wall and reportedly throw stones at his dogs and his car.

Planners said Birkett could put the chain link fence on his property line, two feet behind the block wall, and that he must plant fairly mature bougainvillea to cover the fence.

Birkett appealed the Planning Commission decision, which the City Council overturned.

In other matters the council took the following actions:

—Adopted a minute action to inform the Claremont school board that the closing of Sycamore Elementary School is contrary to recent policy adopted by the Planning Commission; that the closing of any neighborhood school is not in conformity with the city's general plan on land use and public buildings, and that the council requests the board to discuss council concerns and deliberations regarding the closing of both Sycamore and La Puerta schools.

—Approved tentative tract of 35 lots on 13.5 acres north of Base Line Road between Indian Hill Boulevard and Forbes Avenue for Armstrong Development Corp.

—Held first reading of an ordinance prezoning in Annexation 51 land north of Base Line Road as single-family 13,000-square-foot lots, and property south of Base Line Road as residential-multiple 4,000 (minimum lot area of 4,000 square feet per dwelling unit).

—Approved a resolution from the Environmental Quality Board that the policy of the city requires the construction of an effective noise barrier to block noise from the San Bernardino Freeway, and asking the state and federal governments to provide financial, planning and other assistance for the construction of such a barrier.

The policy says that the city's noise element demonstrates that the noise level next to the freeway is hazardous to the health of residents, and that the residential area as far north as Arrow Highway is subject to unacceptable noise levels.

HOUSEHUSBAND — Mike McGrady displays his culinary skills to his wife, Corrine, in their Manhattan apartment. For a year, he stayed home to keep house and care for the children while she held a job.

Being 'housewife' changed his life

NEW YORK (AP) — Dressed in a frilly white apron, scouring pad in hand, the dishwasher manages a brave little smile across the array of shiny pots and pans.

Mike McGrady's picture graces the cover of his book, "The Kitchen Sink Papers: My Life as a Househusband," a poignant, funny account of the year that he and his wife switched roles.

Corrine McGrady went out into the world to become the family wage earner. Mike stayed home to care for three children and tend the household chores.

He was 40 years old, a successful author (he masterminded the X-rated spoof, "Naked Came the Stranger") and a newspaper columnist earning $35,000 a year. But McGrady quit it all for chauffeuring the children, aged 15, 13 and 11 to dentist appointments, rushing home in time to make dinner, vacuuming and ironing.

"I wanted desperately to stop doing the same thing every day of my life," said McGrady, a boyish, witty charmer.

"And I had always said that what I really needed was a wife," said the woman behind the man.

Corrine McGrady was already a businesswoman before the switch. She has been juggling her housewife duties with commitments to her spare time career as a jewelry and graphics designer and manufacturer of such plastic classics as a cook book stand and a salad bowl.

"I was going crazy from all the responsibilities but I managed," said Corrine, 37, a tiny dynamo with black hair piled on top of her head. "But I always had this vision of my not being a housewife. I hated the deadness of being confined. I wanted another slice of life. I wanted to be self-sufficient. Money is power, and I wanted my own."

Then that mid-life restlessness hit Mike. Corrine's business was bringing in about $10,000, and she encouraged the switch. She had no doubts about her ability to expand the business and provide for the family. And she was confident of her husband's talent at wielding egg beater and broom.

Their friends could not take the role change seriously. Mike was repeatedly asked what he was really doing that year.

"To men, it was the sacrifice of a precious birthright. To women, it was insanity," said Mike. "At parties, women loved me for about 8 minutes and then thought about the ramifications — that their job was so easy and so dumb, any guy could do it."

"In the beginning, I felt very lost and threatened," said Corrine. "I felt outside the framework of my friends. I didn't belong anymore. I was a heroine of sorts but their envy was combined with hostility."

Mike got a contract to do the book after he quit. He kept a diary of his troubles:

The provider coming home late without calling resulting in a ruined dinner. Mike sneaking off to the local bar for solace where he invariably ended up giving out recipes for steak Diane and mayonnaise. Mike feeling pangs of jealousy as Corrine casually recounts luxurious lunches at chic restaurants. Familiar family exchanges with a twist — "Your mother will speak to you about that when she comes home tonight ... You never take me out anymore, Corrine ..."

Mike was a gourmet chef, producing such exotic dishes as Oysters Rockefeller, but he never did get the hang of housecleaning.

"I expected to come home to a well-ordered house. But it was in utter chaos most of the time," Corrine said. "I just couldn't kick off my shoes and forget about it because deep in my heart I still had that sense of responsibility about the house."

So Wednesday nights while Mike left for his basketball night off, Corrine tidied up. The experiment almost collapsed there.

"I felt he had not kept up his end of the bargain. I felt he didn't want to do it," Corrine said. "And then suddenly I realized no one would ever want to do it. He had never been conditioned to think that a spotless home was necessarily a good thing."

She was plagued with guilt when Mike slipped into occasional depressions about the monotony of his life.

But they survived.

Corrine found the children respected her more. "Before I was just a housewife, a secondclass citizen. Now they're very proud of me and it's wonderful to be respected for the right reason: what I can do as a human being."

"The marriage is better than ever. We don't con each other," said Mike. "It's much harder to role play. I don't have to be the strong, silent provider."

"I don't have to be Mother Earth, and I will never take housekeeping seriously again. I will become a slob," said Corrine.

As the agreed year came to an end, Corrine said she became very uptight about going back to the confining life she had lived before. Mike admitted that to be truly fair, he should have remained a househusband for 15 more years. He is still at home, working on new novels, and Corrine is still managing her burgeoning business, but the couple has decided to alternate housekeeping every week, making sure that the children get their share of the chores.

"You can always tell whose week for housework it is," said Corrine. "Only one of us is massively depressed."

NAACP seeking members

The Pomona Valley Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is currently conducting its annual membership drive through Dec. 20.

The national organization which began in 1909 deals with abuses of a person's or group's civil rights in the primary areas of housing, employment, law enforcement and education. It emphasizes fair treatment of all people and does not restrict its activities to American blacks. The NAACP uses the courts and legal procedures in its program to eliminate discrimination.

Headquartered in New York City, the NAACP has branches crisscrossing the continental United States and Hawaii.

Mrs. Gertha Speiginer, president of the valley branch, pointed out that the local membership is not restricted to residents of Pomona, but also includes those in Claremont, Chino, San Dimas, Montclair, Upland, La Verne and Ontario.

"We are here to serve the community," she added. "We ask that persons needing assistance in what they consider to be cases of discrimination contact us, regardless of color or creed. The NAACP is everybody's organization. Its success depends on your interest and support. All freedom loving Americans should belong to the NAACP."

The various annual membership fees are a minimum of $4; the minimum plus Crisis magazine, $6; gold certificate, $10; contributing, $25; and life, $500. The life memberships can be paid in installments of $50 annually and can be for an individual, corporation or organization. Youth rates are also available.

Interested persons should call Mrs. Speiginer, 624-7650.

Bus business comeback

DETROIT (AP) — The transit bus business is enjoying its biggest boom in nearly 30 years, thanks to an infusion of government funds and renewed interest in urban mass transportation.

Dormant for two decades, bus production is on an upswing which industry officials predict will accelerate in the 1980s. They pin their forecasts on the need to conserve fuel and the growing recognition that buses are a versatile and low-cost form of mass transit.

The nation's three transit bus makers expect to build 5,000 units by the end of this year, up nearly 20 per cent from last year and the highest output since 1948.

"We're having our best year ever because of the funding Congress has authorized and the continued need to increase facilities for mass transit," says Bass Dyer, vice president of Flexible Co., the No. 2 bus maker.

"We attribute the boom to the increasing cost of fuel, possible scarcity of fuel and the need to improve the environment. People are realizing that you cannot continue to surface the United States with concrete to take care of private automobiles."

Flxible, a subsidiary of the Rohr Corp., plans to build 1,600 buses at its Delaware, Ohio, plant this year, up from 1,300 in 1974.

General Motors' truck and coach division in Pontiac, Mich., the No. 1 producer, expects to assemble 2,000 coaches this year, about the same number as last year.

GMC is looking for a large jump in sales after next summer, when its first new bus in 17 years hits the market.

The newcomer to the field, AM General, a subsidiary of American Motors Corp., expects bus output at its Mishawaka, Ind., plant to reach 1,400 by the end of the year. In 1974, AMC's first year in the transit bus business, its subsidiary produced 850 units.

AM General was able to enter the business — long dominated by GMC — because of a Justice Department consent decree GMC signed in 1965.

Charged with monopoly in the bus market, GM agreed to make its engine-axle-transmission designs and components available to any other competitor through 1990.

Each regular-size bus costs an average $65,000 and has a normal lifetime of 15 years. The engines, all supplied by GM's Detroit Diesel Allison Division, operate on lower-cost diesel fuel and have a lifetime of 500,000 miles in city driving. GM officials say the engines can last two million miles in intercity travel.

Transit bus production in this country peaked during the years just after World War II, with output topping 12,000 units in 1947. Then the rapid decline began, with output falling to 7,000 units in 1948. In the past 20 years production vacillated between 1,500 and 3,000 units a year.

Edward R. Stokel, director of public transportation at GMC, attributes the decline in transit bus production to a dramatic shift in population patterns in the late 1940s.

"Populations began shifting from the central city to suburban areas and created lower density regions," he said.

"It made it prohibitive from a cost standpoint for bus lines to go out into those areas. At the same time, the availability of new automobiles increased, and the government began spending money on highway construction.

"The transit industry was going through a very difficult period. It was losing passengers because of the population shift. As revenues declined, it raised fares, which only resulted in further losses of passengers. It became a vicious circle. And all the time, the cost of fuel, parts and the like kept going up."

In the past five years, Stokel says, there has been a tremendous transition from private to public ownership of mass transit facilities. That change is responsible for the resurgence in the industry.

"Government assumed the role of providing mass transportation, and was willing to do it at a deficit if necessary," he says. "You immediately saw an extension of service, and in some cities — like Atlanta and Los Angeles — a cut in fares to invite more passengers."

In addition to purchasing buses for wider service, cities have begun to upgrade facilities by replacing buses that were 20 or more years old.

Industry officials expect bus output to top 6,000 units by 1980. Production could be considerably higher if cities follow through on proposals by some lawmakers that cars be prohibited from downtown districts.

Zumwalt hits Russ role in oil embargo

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Soviet Union worked behind the scenes to help arrange last year's oil embargo, says retired Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt.

"Instead of apologizing for Soviet misbehavior, our leaders should report accurately Soviet misbehavior," Zumwalt said Wednesday night.

"The world should know about the aggressive action taken in regard to energy by the Soviet Union."

Zumwalt, a former chief of U.S. Naval operations, spoke to 500 teachers at an energy conference.

Marine lieutenant charged 'no lady'

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — A 23-year-old woman Marine is scheduled to face a general court-martial next month on charges of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentlewoman" by allegedly having sexual intercourse with six enlisted men.

The case may be unprecedented in military legal history, says Jay W. Jeffcoat, the civilian lawyer for 2nd Lt. Mary C. Niflis. He said the tall, slender lieutenant is awaiting the Marine Corps' response to her written offer to resign under "honorable conditions."

But if her offer is refused, she is prepared to wage a legal battle "into the federal district court and ultimately, God forbid, to the U.S. Supreme Court," Jeffcoat says.

The Marine Corps has refused any extensive comment on the case, but a spokesman confirmed that none of the men allegedly involved with Lt. Niflis had been charged. "This is the most classic example of a denial of equal justice," Jeffcoat declares.

Mother speak out

He said some women's rights groups, whom he would not name, have expressed interest in the case. But to date Lt. Niflis' most outspoken defender has been her mother, Mrs. Jean C. Rickard of Southbury, Conn. She flew to the Marine Corps Air Station here in early September to visit and comfort her daughter and has written impassioned, detailed letters of appeal to Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., calling on them to investigate the Marine Corps' treatment of her daughter.

Mrs. Richard, who notes that she is 66 and Lt. Niflis is her only child, said "I can't make any judgments" on the charges against her daughter. "I'm protesting the treatment she's had, the double standard and unequal justice."

Since the charges were made last summer, Lt. Niflis has been "treated as if she were guilty instead of being innocent until proven guilty," Mrs. Rickard said in a telephone interview. "She's being treated as though she has an infectious disease and might contaminate other people. This is hard on her because she is a naturally sociable person."

Jeffcoat said the lieutenant has been given no meaningful work to do since the charges were filed. "That's one of our big complaints. She really does nothing. For the past several weeks she's simply been told to bring a good book to work, and given an hour's busy work," he said.

Mrs. Richard said her daughter will "not give any information" to reporters. The MCAS has confined itself to a brief "statement" of the charges against her.

Lt. Niflis, the statement says, is charged with "disobedience of a lawful order, sodomy, eight specifications of conduct unbecoming an officer and fraternization with enlisted personnel on terms of military equality." Pending the scheduled court-martial Nov. 12-14 at the Marine Corps Base in El Toro, Calif., "it is felt inappropriate to make further comment."

Jeffcoat said the specifications against Lt. Niflis name six men — one of them three times — including one man who was an instructor in a Marine Corps "Human Relations Class" she attended. The alleged incidents took place between last December and June of this year. At least three of the men named are married, but even though "there is a military offense for adultery," none was charged, Jeffcoat said.

The issue of unequal treatment is "a question we hope to ask rather loudly if the government wishes to proceed," he said.

Jeffcoat, a former Navy lawyer who lives in nearby El Centro, Calif., has defended other military personnel in courts-martial. He said most cases involving alleged sexual misconduct are "silenced quickly. People are allowed to resign quietly or warned profusely and allowed to go on with their military career."

Her mother said Lt. Niflis "believed the glowing promises made by recruiters — equal treatment for men and women and equal opportunity to be productive" — when she was inducted in October, 1973. She entered basic school the following August, married a man also in basic school in October, 1974, and had to leave for Yuma a short time later, Mrs. Rickard said.

After trying for four months to be stationed with or nearer her husband, Lt. Niflis was divorced this past September, she said.

Astrographs

BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Sunday, Nov. 2

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This should be a fun, active day, but if the festivities spill over into the evening you're likely to run out of steam early.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be sure to consider your mate's wishes today when making plans. If you're not in accord, friction will result.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll have buyer's remorse about anything you buy impulsively today. Think before plunking your cash down.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Concentrate on having a good time today. Dismiss financial and business thoughts for the time being. They can be attended to later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Toward evening you'll lack patience with those who do not jump immediately to your commands. Be careful or you'll stir something up at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're going to do any traveling today, check connections and accommodations well in advance. Something could get fouled up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make any deals with a friend at this time who wants a piece of the action for helping. Wait till he produces, then talk terms.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Others will resent it today if you place your self-interests too far above theirs. Be cooperative, not demanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Normally you're a rather optimistic and self-assured person, but today you'll harbor doubts about something you're involved in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today you don't make a commitment for a friend without first talking it over with her and getting her consent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You tend to do things today without fully appreciating all the ramifications. What appears easy may in reality be very complicated.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Avoid getting into philosophical or political discussions today with friends. The conversation could turn into a very serious debate.

Your Birthday Nov. 2

This coming year you will be able to bring off situations you had difficulty getting off the ground in the past. The lessons you've learned have prepared you for success.

D.A. bureau faces probe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Los Angeles Police Chief Tom Reddin has been named to head a committee studying the operation of the district attorney's investigative bureau.

Dist. Atty John Van de Kamp said Wednesday that although he did not want to make a premature judgement on the committee's task he felt "there is the need to better allocate the manpower and resources of the bureau."

In adddition to Reddin, six other persons will be on the committee.

The investigative bureau currently has 750 employes, 281 of whom are investigators and detectives.

Government lists doctors who got rich on welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government, in a policy reversal, is making public for the first time the names of doctors who strike it rich by treating welfare patients.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare disclosed Thursday that 207 doctors in 16 states and the District of Columbia each earned more than $100,000 from Medicaid last year. They received a total of $29.8 million in federal, state and local funds.

At the top of the list was a physician identified only as Dr. W. Triebel, practicing somewhere in New York State, who was paid $451,156 for providing care to the poor and medically indigent at public expense.

The 207 doctors comprised about two-tenths of 1 per cent of the 99,117 physicians who charged the Medicaid program about $1.32 billion in 1974, an average of $13,320 each.

In response to a Freedom of Information request from the New York Daily News, HEW released the names and addresses of 13 New Jersey doctors who each earned more than $100,000 from Medicaid and said similar information will be available for other states in about two weeks.

California had 59 doctors on the list, New York 53 and Michigan 18.

Trailing Dr. Triebel, a California physician earned $348,387 from Medicaid last year, another physician in Washington, D.C., billed the government for $309,468 and at least one physician pulled in more than $200,000 each in New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Texas.

The HEW records are not complete because Massachusetts and Illinois do not have record systems which enable the identification of Medicaid doctors in the over-$100,000 category, the department said.

Federal officials said states will be directed to verify that the claims submitted by the doctors were accurate, but they hastened to emphasize that the public release of the names does not imply that those doctors were defrauding the government.

They said the names were pulled from "raw data" and that a single doctor's bill might represent services rendered by a number of physicians in group practice.

Many of the doctors are expected to have addresses in poverty-stricken areas of big cities where there are large welfare populations, HEW said.

Although the names of the upper-income Medicaid physicians are being released, the Social Security Administration continued to maintain that the names of doctors who treat elderly and disabled Medicare patients must remain confidential because of disclosure restrictions in federal law and regulations.

"JESUS IS LORD"
Restoration REVIVAL

POMONA VALLEY CHRISTIAN CENTER,
corner of 10th and Garey, Pomona, will be conducting a week of revival, Nov. 3 through Nov. 8, nightly at 7:30 (except Tues., the 4th). The speaker evangelist will be REV. BILLY D. BROWN (who serves as the Chaplain of the P.V. Chap. of the F.G.B.M.F.I.). Special music also will be featured nightly.

Ministers' convocation at school of Theology

"Resurgent Spirituality and Global Responsibility" will be the theme of the 27th annual Ministers' Convocation Monday and Tuesday at the Mudd Communications Building at Claremont School of Theology.

The 1975 convocation will explore Christian responsibility for mission in a developing world and probe for creative responses to the recurring thirst for spiritual meaning and fulfillment.

Speakers will be Wolfhart Pannenberg, professor of systematic theology and director of the Ecumenical Institute in Munich, Germany; the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., pastor of the Holman United Methodist Church in Los Angeles; and Jane Dempsey Douglass, professor of church history at Claremont School of Theology since 1963.

Convocation participants will attend seminars dealing with personal and professional implications of the theme.

JAMES M. LAWSON JR.

JANE D. DOUGLASS

WOLFHART PANENBERG

The convocation is sponsored by the School of Theology, the Council of Churches of Southern California, the Disciples Seminary Foundation and the Southern California-Arizona Conference of United Methodist Church.

On Wednesday at the school, the Rev. Claude U. Broach, director of the Ecumenical Institute in Charlotte, N.C., will preach at a community worship service at 11:45 a.m. in Kresge Chapel.

"What Can a Man be Sure Of?" is his subject.

Mr. Broach, who holds Th.D. and Ph.D degrees from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, was pastor of St. John's Baptist Church in Charlotte from 1944 to 1974.

Voorhis, TV firm honored

Former Congressman Jerry Voorhis and Theta Cable television have received Ecunemical Service awards from the Pomona Valley Council of Churches.

Voorhis was honored as a "Christian whose personal faith has found expression" in a variety of ways in the council, and "as a person who speaks from among us, and yet speaks to us and for us."

The cable TV station won the award for making public service time available for religious programming.

Voorhis was the keynote speaker at the eighth annual assembly of the council at the La Verne Church of the Brethren Thursday.

He called on the council — both as church and as individuals — to create Christian community by assuming a servanthood role.

The council re-elected the Rev. Leland Wilson of the Church of the Brethren as its president for a second term. Other officers elected were the Rev. Morgan Sly, vice president; Mrs. La Vurla Miller, secretary, and Virgil Wilkinson, treasurer.

LOANA AND JIM BERGTHOLD

Musical quartet in performance

The Lighthouse Quartet, a musical group sonsored by Point Loma College, San Diego, will appear at the First Church of the Nazarene in Pomona at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The quartet is composed of David Barton, Wesley Carlton, Bart Moore and Brad Oliver, with Mark W. Myers, accompanist.

The group is one of several sponsored by the college. They range from trios to the 160-member choral union.

The church will hold its third annual Faith Promise banquet next Friday at 6:30 p.m. at Orlando's.

Jim Bergthold, a gospel singer, and his wife, Loana, will entertain.

The Rev. Harold Stanfield, Nazarene Missionary from Peru, will be the guest speaker. The dinner will introduce the annual campaign which is expected to raise the missionary budget for next year. The local church helps support missionaries and national workers in 53 nations.

Reservations for the banquet are available at the church office, 623-1624.

Program to review assemblies

G. Merrill Lenox, minister of administration at the adult studies session at Claremont United Methodist Church, will speak on "On to Nairobi" Sunday at 10:10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenox will attend the Fifth Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Nairobi, Kenya.

Lenox is one of the few Americans who have attended all four past assemblies.

In his presentation, Lenox will review with slides some highlights of past assemblies and give a preview of the forthcoming conclave.

The Rev. James W. Dallas, senior minister, will preach at the 9:15 and 11:05 a.m. worship services.

San Dimas Community Church

Rev. McCandless to be installed Sunday

The Rev. Kenneth B. McCandless will be installed as pastor of the San Dimas Community Church at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Rev. David Held, pastor of the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, will preach a sermonette for the occasion. The Rev. James W. Angell, pastor of the Claremont United Presbyterian Church, will give the charge to the pastor and the Rev. Wilbur Simmons, former interim pastor of the San Dimas church, will have the charge to the congregation.

The Rev. James Watson, moderator of the Foothill Association of the United Church of Christ and pastor of the Diamond Bar Congregational Church; the Rev. Francis Ellis, former minister of the San Dimas church; and Peter Vaught, youth minister of the church will also take part in the service.

Stanley Plummer, Alfred Batchelor, Jack Carruthers, Alvoid Dallas, Mrs. Harold Kline, David Wright and Mrs. Harold Wright, all members of the Church Council will be recognized.

The choir will be augmented by members of the Louis Ronfeldt Chorale and will be under the direction of Harold Kline. Fred Willis will be organist.

The Shipmates Couples Club and the Women's Guild will sponsor a reception in the Fellowship Hall following the service.

Youth pastor named

Dennis E. McFadden of Pasadena has been named youth pastor at the First Baptist Church of Chino.

He is a divinity student at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena. He will coordinate the church's youth program. His wife, Jeanette, also a seminary student, will assist him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McFadden are from Ontario.

The Rev. Robert Wilson, church pastor, said the monthly Communion service will be held Sunday morning. His sermon topic will be "How Jesus Changes Our Hearts."

Mr. McFadden will speak at the 6 p.m. service on "What Kind of a Letter Are You?"

Phones buck flash floods

HONOLULU (AP) — Can a telephone call outrace a surging, destructive flash flood?

Yes. "Hawaii has recorded an average of five serious flash floods a year since 1965," says Edward M. Carlstead, meteorologist in charge of the National Weather Service's office here.

The Hawaiian Telephone Co. provides 22 special telephone lines to remote rain gauges in the island chain to gather detailed reports on rainfall for the Weather Service. Timely, accurate readings provide warnings of possible dangerous flash floods.

Lutheran church organized in L.V.

A new mission church, known as Our Savior Lutheran Church, has been organized in La Verne.

The congregation holds its meetings at the LaVerne Heights Elementary School. Services are at 9 a.m. Sunday with Sunday school at 10:15, according to Pastor Ed Busch.

Officers of the new church are Dave Molnar, president; Rolf Schuhr, vice president; John Barnhart, treasurer; Guy Cloutman, financial secretary and Mrs. Mary Cloutman, corresponding secretary.

The Board of Elders includes Howard Sirney, Jim Ferguson and Owen Danaher.

A youth program has been started and activities are scheduled for every Sunday evening. Adult Bible study groups meet Monday mornings and confirmation classes for children and adults are now in progress.

English Bible

The first Bible printed in English was printed by Robert Aitken of Philadelphia in 1782.

Spiritual law, link to freedom is topic

Roy J. Linnig will lecture at 3 p.m. Sunday at Garrison Theatre, Claremont, at the invitation of First Church of Christ Scientist, Claremont.

ROY J. LINNIG

Linnig believes that individual freedom that really lasts depends on an understanding of spiritual law.

Linnig will tell of a young man who found freedom from the use of hallucinatory drugs through an understanding of spiritual law.

A former businessman, Linnig entered the public practice of Christian Science healing in 1953. He was appointed to the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1963, and seven years later became a teacher of Christian Science.

McKay will need time

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — "The tter teachers will win on any level football," John McKay said Fri- y after confirming he will leave college game for the high-paying allenge of coaching a National otball League expansion team.

"But I won't be ridiculous and nk we can win right away," the niversity of Southern California ach added. "The players other FL teams give us will be from the ttom of the barrel. I would hope e'll be able to build a winning team ithin four or five years."

McKay, 52, discussed his decision coach the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, o join the NFL next season, after s unbeaten Trojans arrived here r today's Pacific-8 Conference me against California. He gave the uthern Cal players the news before e team left the Los Angeles campus.

"He didn't make any big thing of it," said Junior Lee, an offensive end. "He just said he was sorry he had to tell us he'd be leaving but that we had a good football program and that it would keep going without him. He's been a great coach."

McKay became head coach at Southern Cal in 1960, had losing teams his first two seasons but hasn't had one since. Three of his teams have had unbeaten seasons and claimed national championships and the Trojans have won five Rose Bowl games under him.

McKay said he has made no recommendations on his successor.

"That will be up to the university," said the coach, who also serves as Southern Cal's athletic director. He'll be a vice president of the Tampa organization as well as head coach. "I didn't want to be general manager," he said.

Ron Wolf, who headed the Oakland Raiders' scouting department for many years, is general manager of the Tampa team.

"We'll have to try to pick the players in the expansion draft we feel can help us the most. Ron Wolf will be in charge of that. He did a great job at Oakland," McKay said, but added that he hopes to start building with young players rather than the veterans made available by other NFL teams.

Southern Cal's all-time winningest coach said he had hoped to wait until a week after the season ended to announce his decision to leave, "but the news media wouldn't let us do what we wanted. All the stories, many of them inaccurate, were detracting from our team's performance."

Pro football can wait, he concluded.

"I can guarantee you that nothing will be said about it in the locker room Saturday."

McKay first discussed the possibility of joining the Tampa team last spring in a meeting with owner Hugh Culverhouse. Word that he had accepted the Bucs' offer leaked out earlier this week, with some reports listing contract terms as high as $750,000 for five years.

"I won't make any comment on the money other than to say it's nowhere near what's been printed in the newspapers," McKay said.

The rumors in print, he added, "were starting to drive me a little crazy."

So, on Wednesday, he went to Dr. John Hubbard, president of the university, and said, "I've had enough. Let's announce it and get it over with."

John McKay takes a cigar out of his pocket as he leaves the USC campus Friday after it was announced that he was leaving USC after the current season to become coach of the expansion Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL.

Damien blanks Vikings

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

The Damien High defense is too, much!

The Spartan defensive eleven oved that rather conclusively Fri- y night at Cal Poly's Kellogg eld, blanking San Antonio League e Garey 32-0. The win keeps Da- ien undefeated and all alone atop e SAL standings.

Friday's contest was supposed to a real shootout but the game, for arey, actually ended on the very rst play.

On that play Viking star Stanley Webster returned the opening kickoff o the Garey 30 before running into a bos of Spartans. When the players unpiled, Webster lay prone on the Kellogg Field turf, victim of an apparent knee injury.

The Viking halfback was removed from the field and later taken to a local hospital. It appeared that he would be lost to the Vikings for the year.

The Garey offense never jelled without their top threat, or rather the hard-charging Damien defense never gave them a chance.

That unit accounted for two safeties on the night and also one touchdown on linebacker Mike Fraschetti's 28-yard interception return on the third quarter.

The first safety was the initial score of the contest after a 0-0 first quarter. The Vikings were backed up to their own two-yard stripe following the conclusion of an unsuccessful Spartan scoring drive.

On the third play from the two, Ralph Dixon was nailed in his own end zone for two Damien points by a host of Spartan defenders.

The Spartans advanced to a more substantial 9-0 lead late in the second quarter on a Joe Carroll to Joe Repar touchdown pass which covered nine yards. Rick Davis added the first of three PAT conversions he was to chaulk up on the night.

Garey, which had played surprisingly well in the first 24 minutes despite the loss of Webster, fell apart in the second half.

Midway through the third quarter Damien put together a 69-yard scoring march on only five plays, a Carroll to Ruben Lopez pass covering the final 17 yards.

The Vikings, at that point down 16-0, tried to go to the air following the Damien kickoff but quarterback Milt Banks was intercepted by Spartan linebacker Mike Fraschetti who ran it back 28 yards for a touchdown which ended the Viking hopes for the night.

In the final 12 minutes it was all Damien as Lopez rambled 43 yards for another score and the Spartan defenders accounted for another two points by dumping Elijah Turner in his own end zone.

The Damien dominance was clearly evident in the game statistics. The Spartans outgained Garey 291 to 35 in total yardage and held the Vikings without a first down in the second half.

Even more impressive, the usually effective Garey ground game was held to a net of minus six yards on 31 carries for the night. A fleet of nine Damien rushers accounted for an even 200 yards on the ground.

Quarterback Carroll had another fine evening for coach Dick Larson's crew. The Damien senior clicked for those two TDs and a total of 91 yards in the air.

Lopez was the top rusher on the contest with 75 yards, a total he amassed on only four totes.

Damien, now 5-0 in SAL action and 7-0 overall, will tackle Claremont next week. Garey fell to a 3-2 league mark and a 4-3 season record. The Vikes are at Chino next week.

Goodrich joins team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Holdout guard Gail Goodrich will begin practicing with the the Los Angeles Lakers today but will play out his option this season without signing a contract.

The Lakers announced Friday night that Goodrich will rejoin the team today and will resume playing when he is back in shape. He has missed 37 days—28 days of preseason and nine days of the regular season.

Chick Hearn, the National Basketball Association team's broadcaster and assistant general manager, said the 6-foot guard met with General Manager Pete Newell earlier in the day and the two could not reach agreement on a new contract.

Goodrich earned about $150,000 last year and has asked for an estimated $300,000 this year. The team's owner, Jack Kent Cooke, left for a Hawaiian vacation earlier in the week after failing to get Goodrich's name on a contract. A team spokesman said the parties were "still far apart."

The former UCLA guard was the Lakers' leading scorer last year.

Jabbar leads Lakers' win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led Los Angeles to an easy 120-104 victory Friday night over the Seattle SuperSonics, scoring 27 points in his home debut for the Lakers.

Abdul-Jabbar pulled down 24 rebounds and blocked seven shots as the Lakers improved their record to 3-2. Cazzie Russell and Donnie Freeman each contributed 25 points and Lucius Allen added 22 as the Lakers led from the opening minute.

Fred Brown led Seattle scoring with 33 points. Tom Burleson had 21 for the losers, now 3-2.

The Lakers led by 11 points at halftime and at that point had 39 rebounds to Seattle's 18. Burleson wound up the game with just six rebounds as Abdul-Jabbar held the 7-foot-4 center away from the boards.

Los Angeles, playing without holdout guard Gail Goodrich, led by only three points midway through the third period, but broke the game open on the shooting of Russell and AbdulJabbar.

The Lakers shot into an early 16-3 lead with Abdul-Jabbar and Allen supplying the punch. Los Angeles continued to shoot well in the period and led 33-22 at the end of the stanza.

The Lakers extended their advantage to 41-26 in the first three minutes of the second period.

Burleson scored from inside for the Sonics, but the Lakers totally dominated the backboards and held a 55-44 lead at intermission.

Bell faces Muncie today

By The Associated Press

Ricky Bell, whom Coach John McKay will leave behind at Southern California, meets Chuck Muncie, a running back McKay would love to have next season, in today's most important Pacific-8 game.

"We're here to beat California, not just to take on Chuck Muncie," McKay said after his unbeaten and fourth-ranked Trojans arrived in Berkeley for the regionally televised game against the Bears, 3-1 in the Pac-8.

The big story Friday was McKay himself, with the official announcement that he'll leave Southern Cal at the end of this season to become coach of the expansion Tampa team in the National Football League.

"Now is the time for me to do something else," the 52-year-old coach declared as he entered the stretch run of his 16th season as the Trojans' head coach.

Bell leads college football's individual rushers, with 1,233 yards through seven games, and is just a junior. Muncie, a senior sure to be picked off early in NFL's winter draft, has 920 yards rushing and 231 on pass receptions for the Bears' offense which ranks first in the nation.

The 13th ranked UCLA Bruins, tied for first in the Pac-8 and hoping to stay that way until their Nov. 28 game against the Trojans, will be home today against Washington, 2-1. Stanford, also 2-1, travels north for a game against winless Oregon State, while Washington State will host Oregon in a matchup of teams winless in the conference.

What looks like the big game of the year in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, San Diego State against San Jose State, is two weeks away.

San Diego's 18th ranked Aztecs play the Pacific Tigers tonight in Stockton, where San Diego teams have had tough games their last three trips, while San Jose will be at Fresno State. The Aztecs and Spartans, with pass-oriented offenses and strong defenses, both are undefeated in the PCAA.

The UCLA offense directed by sure-handed quarterback John Sciarra is averaging fewer yards than Cal's but has been more efficient, totaling more points. The Bruins will be facing a Husky defense which had its best day of the season last weekend in a 35-7 victory over Oregon State.

Stanford is the Pac-8's highest scoring team despite recent spotty passing by quarterback Mike Cordova. Another letdown by Cordova, Coach Jack Christiansen has indicated, could mean that Guy Benjamin will be the Cards' starter next Saturday in the Los Angeles Coliseum against Southern Cal.

Oregon broke a 14-game losing streak last Saturday, beating Utah 18-7, and Coach Don Read said, "If the defense keeps up their fine play, we should win a few more."

The WSU Cougars have lost five straight since opening with victories over Kansas and Utah. Their defense has allowed 443 yards per game, highest mark in the Pac-8, but in Gavin Hedrick they have the conference's best punter.

Nine WFL players win in court hearing

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Nine former World Football League players have won a temporary restraining order that knocks out the National Football League edict banning the hiring of players from the defunct WFL.

U.S. District Judge Edward Devitt, who rejected arguments by NFL attorneys that lifting the ban could do "irreparable harm," signed the order after a 2½ hour hearing Friday. Defense attorneys claimed signing players at mid-season could upset the league's competitive balance and bring down the fans' wrath.

Devitt set another hearing for next Wednesday on the plaintiffs' request for an injunction that would free not only the nine former Hawaii players, but all other players affected by the WFL demise.

The WFL, plagued by a second season of poor attendance, folded on Oct. 22, and two days later NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced league clubs could not hire players from the WFL this season.

In New York, an NFL spokesman issued a brief statement by the league which said:

"Temporarily, at least, the court's ruling clears up the status of those nine players. It appears to remove them as potential causes for legal actions by former investors in the World Football League. The NFL, of course, will comply with the ruling of the court."

The spokesman said any signings of former WFL players would be subject to the NFL reserve rules and option-compensation clause. In other words, if an NFL team signed a player who had previously played for another club in the league before switching to the WFL, the signing club would, under the so-called Rozelle Rule, have to compensate the player's former NFL team.

Ten ex-Hawaii players had filed the complaint, but as court opened Friday, the plaintiffs' attorney Edward Parker said player-coach John Wilbur was withdrawing to file his own suit.

Wilbur sat in the spectators' seats and plaintiff Ken Bowman was at the plaintiff's table.

Others bringing the suit were Charles M. Detwiler, Mike Donohoe, John Kelsey, Karl Lorch, David Olerich, Robert Richards, Thorwald Solverson and Harold Stringert.

McKay gets $2 million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John McKay stands to make approximately $2 million over the next five years with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, it was reported Friday.

Jim Healy, sports director of KLAC, said he had learned the details of McKay's contract with Tampa owner Hugh Culverhouse.

Healy said McKay's contract is, as previously reported, $150,000 per year for the next five years. Of that, Healy said, McKay will take only $36,000 in cash for living expenses and that $114,000 is to be deferred until the end of the contract.

However, that offer was not acceptable to McKay until Culverhouse agreed to match the $114,000 per year in deferred money, Healy said.

In addition, McKay will receive a $350,000 house, which he'll own outright, as well as all household expenses—pool maintenance, maid service, utilities and gardener. And Culverhouse has agreed to make a $50,000 land investment for McKay each year of the contract.

That contract, then, calls for $1,740,000 in cash and investments, not counting the expense account, appreciation on the house and land or other minor fringe benefits including life and health insurance policies for himself and his wife, Healy said.

Storm slows action in Baja 1000 race

ENSENADA, Mexico (AP) — Al Baker and Gene Cannady shared riding chores aboard a Honda motorcycle to win the SCORE Baja 1000 off-road race Friday, but one day after the 801-mile race began less than one out of four starters had completed the event.

Baker, 25, of Long Beach, Calif. and Cannady, 34, of Canoga Park, Calif. survived a storm and finished the race that started and ended near this seaside town with a time of 18 hours and 22 minutes.

Second overall and the first four-wheel vehicle to finish the race around the rugged Baja California peninsula was the team of Malcolm Smith, former motorcycle champion, and Bud Feldkamp of Riverside, Calif. who had a time of 18:56.

The field of 232 started early Thursday morning but by late Friday afternoon only 15 of the 34 motorcycles and and 30 of 198 cars and trucks completed the course.

The weather, with rain, bitterly cold winds and dust and sand storms, was called the worst any of the racers had ever seen in the area and Baker said, "I've been coming racing down here since 1967 and I've never seen it this bad.

"If you're racing close to someone dust can be bad but this was really blowing, there were tree limbs and hunks of brush blown on to the course blocking the way and people were running into them," said Baker.

Bonita fans get a treat

By GRAHAM CROW
PB Correspondent

Using very few tricks, Bonita High treated its followers to another Hacienda League football victory Friday night as the Bearcats spooked outclassed Gladstone 31-0 at Citrus College.

The win improved Bonita's league record to 5-0 as coach Pete Lopez's team had by far its finest offensive night of the season.

Having not scored more than 14 points in any game this year, Bonita went after that mark right away as Bob Vidaure scooted around left end for 68 yards and a score on the second play of the game. Steve Benoit's extra point made it 7-0 with only 50 seconds having elapsed.

From then on it was a matter of the Bearcats scoring whenever they seemed to get enthused enough to do so. That enthusiasm came once every quarter.

Later in the first and again in the third. it was quarterback Sanford Coggins getting the honors on runs of eight and one yards. Dave Drury grabbed a nine yard strike from Coggins in the second while third string running back Tom Bruiners tallied in the fourth period from two yards out.

Although still tied for first in the Hacienda League, Bonita has not been tested by either of the two powerhouses — Walnut and Royal Oak.

"We'll get a good reading of our team next week," Lopez said after the win in discussing the Bearcats' meeting with Walnut this Friday.

"Tonight's win was good for us in that we got to use a lot of players but we'll have to be extra tough these next two games," the Bonita coach added.

Vidaure wound up as the game's leading rusher with 112 yards in 13 carries. Coggins had 101 in 12 attempts as the Bonita ground force managed 357 yards total.

Gladstone, which has scored just 19 points in its five league losses, was nearly impotent again with only 29 yards rushing and 58 through the air on 17 attempts.

Although some people accused the Gladstone team of masquerading as football players in the Halloween game, the best costume award went to Gladiator quarterback Bobby Alvarez who wore jersey number 12 and helmet number 16. Neither number was listed inthe program.

'Anita hosts National today

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Handicap star Ancient Title and 3-year-old ace Forceten will probably go to the post as favorites today in the $350,000 National Thoroughbred Championship at Santa Anita which also could be instrumental in the jockey money title.

Laffit Pincay Jr., the Panamanian who won the most money the past five years but is trailing in 1975, gets the ride aboard Ancient Title, the high weight at 125 for the 1¼-mile battle.

Forceten, 120, will be ridden by Donald Pierce, forming the same combination that won the $200,000 Swaps Stakes at Hollywood Park.

The high impost isn't expected to bother Ancient Title. He won the Whitney at Saratoga under 128, the Hollywood Gold Cup with 125 and the Californian at Hollywood Park with 126 this year.

Canadian Jockey Sandy Hawley leads the jockey race this year.

Through September, he had winners who earned $2,875,744 while Pincay, hampered by injuries and suspensions, had $2,564,629 and the all-time riding champion Bill Shoemaker was at $2,789,494.

All three have mounts not only in today's richest race ever for thoroughbreds in the United States with a top purse of $240,000, but also in the $123,825 Norfolk Stakes on Sunday for 2-year-olds.

The winner in that freshman race collects $74,295 if all eight entries go to the post.

Interest centers on the international field today. Hawley will be riding the Canadian L'Enjoleur who was assigned 117. Shoemaker goes aboard the mare Dulcia, an import from Argentina who has earned $450,000.

Allez France, who did her racing in Europe to earn $1,364,427, makes her American debut with Frenchman Yves Saint-Martin in the irons and carrying 121 pounds. They have the disadvantage of running the race in an unfamiliar counterclockwise pattern. In Europe the races are clockwise.

In post position order, the field will have L'Enjoleur, Forceten, Dulcia, Royal Glint, Ancient Title, Allez France, Messenger of Song, Tizna, Holding Pattern, Stonewalk and Jim.

The nationally televised event, for which the Columbia Broadcasting System put up $200,000, is scheduled to start about 2:40 p.m. PST.

Neither Dulcia or Tizna have finished first in races against male rivals during their careers, but they have dominated the distaff racing on the West Coast this year.

L'Enjoleur was Canada's Horse of the Year in 1974 and he'll be making his California debut at a track on which his jockey, Hawley, has competed frequently. The duo has teamed for seven Canadian stakes victories.

Royal Glint, with Jorge Tejeira, and Stonewalk, with Ron Turcotte, will represent the East and both horses have captured major stakes there.

Lightweight in the field will be Jim, at 110. The winner of the Longacres Mile at Seattle, he'll have Frank Olivares in the saddle.

Carter's long run sparks Saint win

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Correspondent

San Dimas halfback Fred Carter, showing no signs of an ankle sprain that kept him out of last week's game, broke a 77-yard run from scrimmage early in the fourth quarter to give the Saints a 13-7 victory over the visiting Alta Loma Braves Friday night at Bonita High.

Carter, the game's leading rusher with 109 yards in nine carries, took a pitchout from quarterback Steve Loumagne as Loumagne was knocked to the ground and sped around the right side of Alta Loma's line. Once he reached the sideline at the San Dimas 30, the junior speedster outraced the Braves' secondary down the chalk to score.

The touchdown gave San Dimas a 13-7 lead with 8:38 left in the game.

Sonny LaFargue's kick for the extra point was wide but it didn't matter, as the fired-up Saint defense kept the Braves inside their own 30-yard line for the remainder of the contest.

Alta Loma scored its only touchdown during the second minute of the game, following the first of six San Dimas turnovers. When Loumagne tried a pitchout after being hit on the game's first play from scrimmage, the loose ball bounced toward the San Dimas end zone.

Defensive tackle Mike Couch scooped up the football on the Saints' 21 and ran it back to the 11 before being pulled down by San Dimas halfback Jim Campbell.

Alta Loma fullback Steve Robinson bulled in from the one two plays later and Matt Caraway's extra point kick gave the Braves a 7-0 lead.

San Dimas wasted no time getting even. The Saints began at their own 30 after Alta Loma's kickoff, and covered the 70 yards to the goal line in 14 plays.

Loumagne scored on a keeper from two inches out and LaFargeue kicked the extra point to tie the game with 4:14 remaining in the first quarter.

The two squads held each other scoreless from that point until Carter's fourth-period breakaway, as the damp field had a part in stalling both offense. Each team fumbled six times during the game, with San Dimas losing five and the Braves two. Each defense came up with one interception.

The second quarter was particularly frustrating for the Saints. San Dimas lost two fumbles and was intercepted once in that period and had an 11-yard touchdown run by fullback Bob Pleasant nullified by a clipping penalty. On the next play, Campbell's pass on a halfback option was picked off in the end zone by Alta Loma cornerback Derek Sweem.

Scots romp past Devils

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Upland High went trick or treating Friday night and when it knocked on Pomona High's door, walked away with its bag full.

The Highlanders turned four Devil turnovers into three Gary Carr touchdowns for a 35-14 San Antonio League romp over the host at Chaffey College in Alta Loma.

Upland took a close 6-0 lead into the locker room at halftime and, after Pomona scored, led 14-6 going into the fourth quarter.

Carr finished the Halloween evening with 70 yards on 18 carries, including scoring runs of one and three yards and a 57 yard pass interception return.

Scot quarterback Bob Dalquest followed close behind with 66 yards on 13 carries as the Upland offensive line blew holes in the Devils defense enabling him to pick up clutch first downs on sneaks up the middle.

Pomona running back Rick Fairman got the fourth quarter Upland charity drive rolling when he coughed up the pigskin into the hands of Scot defensive tackle Bruce Sutton on the Devil 27 with 2:14 in the third quarter.

Less than a minute into the fourth period Carr busted in from a half yard out with Jay Morton's point after making the score 21-6.

Pomona relinquished possession on the first day following the kickoff on another fumble with Doug Lindsey recovering for Upland.

Three plays later Carr scored from three yards out and Morton added the PAT.

After Pomona had the ball four play, Devil QB Mark Soto's pass was picked off by Carr on his own 43 returned for a TD. Morton added his third and final kick of the night.

Devil fullback Hank Zibell scored with 53 seconds remaining and Soto ran for two in futile comeback attempt.

Zibell finished the contest with 106 yards on 16 carries.

Upland keeps its hopes of a second place CIF playoff berth alive in improving its record to 3-2 in league play.

The initial score of the evening was a one yard second period TD sneak by Dalquest with Morton's kick being blocked by Sam Barreras.

Pomona tied it up on Andrew Pilcher's 20 yard scamper in the third quarter, with the run for two points failing.

Running back Mike Rees hooked up with Dalquest for a 38 yard scoring pass to put Upland in the lead for good at 2:21 of the third stanza.

Pomona drops its SAL mark to 2-3.

Riedel runs wild in Chino's victory

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Mini-back Rick Riedel ran wild Friday night to lead Chino High to an easy 30-0 romp over the host Cavaliers at Montclair High.

The stage is set for next week's San Antonio League showdown for undisputed second place, as Chino (4-1, 6-1) now has the opportunity to knock Garey (3-2, 4-3) another notch down the League standings. (The Vikings fell 32-0 first place Damien Friday night).

Things will look very bright for the Cowboys if this (a victory) is accomplished, and consequently, things will look not so bright for Garey. Alas, the long-awaited matchup between the top two running backs in the SAL (Riedel and Stanley Webster of the Vikings) will not take place, as Webster is probably lost for the remainder of the year, due to a knee injury suffered Friday.

Riedel, probably the most consistant prep runner in the valley, squirmed and scooted through the Cavelier defense for 142 yards in 26 carries, including a three yard touchdown blast in the second quarter. The 5'6", 150 pound senior equally divided his totals, gaining 71 yards in each half.

Junior quarterback Chris Pruitt continued to improve at a rapid pace. Chris tossed two scoring strikes, and wound up the night completing nine out of 12 attempts, good for 102 yards.

The Cowboys defense, led by middle-linebacker Bob McMichael, made the evening rather unpleasant for quarterback Darrin Pierce and the Montclair offensive unit. The hosts were held to only 15 yards rushing in 20 attempts, 37 yards on five pass receptions, and two first downs.

The initial Chino score of the evening came at the 6:35 mark in the opening period, when Edwin Marquez' 37 yard field-goal attempt barely cleared the crossbar.

Four minutes later Pruitt hit wide-receiver Robert Andazola with a fourth down, 16 yards TD toss. Marquez' successful kick gave the Chinoians an early 10-0 lead.

The contest's most amusing play came about late in the third quarter, with Chino holding a 23-0 advantage, and having possession at the Cavelier 30. Riedel twisted, turned, broke tackle after tackle, rambling 27 yards down the Dav three, where suddenly the ball popped loose. The pigskin bounded into the endzone, where Cowboy guard David Leach received the ball with open arms.

Chino finished the night with 287 yards on 57 plays, while racking up 16 first downs.

Redlands downs Chaffey

REDLANDS — Chaffey High fell back into a four-team tie for first place in the hectic Citrus Belt League football race Friday night, as the Tigers dropped a 29-7 decision to host Redlands High.

Redlands erased a 7-0 Chaffey halftime advantage with a 29-point second half. The result gives both Chaffey and Redlands 2-1 CBL marks, the same as Fontana and San Gorgonio, with only two more league games to be played.

The Tigers took the lead on Kirk Young's five-yard run in the second quarter, but once the teams returned from the lockerroom it was all Terriers.

The Redlands domination was clearly evident in the total offensive output of both teams, as the Terriers outgained the Tigers 336 to 145.

Turning point of the contest was an interception of a John Gable pass by Redlands defensive back Randy Williams. Williams returned that misguided aerial 60 yards to put Redlands on top to stay.

Chaffey will try to stay in the midst of the CBL title chase next Friday at San Gorgonio.

New month helps Cal Poly's chances

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

Cal Poly's football team is delighted to say hello to November.

The Broncos, winless in October for the second straight year, will try to get back on the winning track at Kellogg Field tonight against Cal State Los Angeles.

If Poly has any hopes of still winning at least a share of the California Collegiate Athletic Association title, a win tonight is a must.

Coach Andy Vinci feels his team will rebound from last week's frustrating 24-20 loss at UC Riverside on a 13-yard pass in the final 10 seconds.

"It's very important we learn to come up off the ground and strike back," Vinci said.

Vinci also knows better than to underestimate Cal State Los Angeles' 0-4-1 record.

"I feel Cal State's quarterback, Orlando Olivas, is better than Riverside's Dan Hayes because besides being an excellent passer, he is also a potentially dangerous passing threat."

Besides not winning a game in consecutive Octobers, Poly has also established a reputation for playing close games.

In the 16 games under Vinci's coaching, 11 of them have been decided in the final minutes.

"It's been the most incredible experience to have had so many different situations occur in the last minute and a half," Vinci said. "We can't look back though. In our five remaining games, we need to continue to improve to end up having a good season."

The closeness of the games can clearly be reflected in tonight's opponents.

Poly and Cal State, the freeway rivals, have played to ties (34-34 and 22-22) the past two years. Obviously, they will try to undo the knot tonight in the 7:30 kickoff.

The October drought has dropped Poly's season record to 3-2-1. In the non-winning spell, Poly lost by four points to Sacramento, tied Puget Sound and fell four to Riverside.

Tonight's game will provide Poly's CCAA-leading defense another test. The Broncs lead the conference by allowing only 250.7 yards per game.

Olivas, a transfer from USC, promises to present a lot of problems. He has completed 40 of 68 passes for 472 yards and is Cal State's second top runner. His top target is Malcolm Campbell.

Poly will counter with its excellent defensive backfield of Scott Sanders, Doug Hughes, Tony Falls and Jim Poettgen, who leads the national NCAA Division II statistics with eight interceptions.

On offense, Vinci will start quarterback Leo Costa, who did an outstanding job coming off the bench last week. Ron Jones also earned a starting assignment at halfback.

Cal State Coach Jim Williams, a Claremont resident, feels size will hurt his team.

"This will be a David and Galiath match-up," Williams said, "and we're the David . . . and a small one at that."

Williams also realizes the Diablos will have a rough time with Poly's pass defense.

"The most impressive part of Poly's game is the secondary . . . it's the best we've met this year," he said.

CCAA co-leaders Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and UC Riverside clash tonight at Riverside with the winner being in the driver's seat.

Kuehl tabbed as Expo skipper

MONTREAL (AP) — Karl Kuehl, who toiled for four years as a manager in Montreal's minor league baseball system, became the youngest manager in the majors Friday, succeeding Gene Mauch as field boss of the Expos.

Kuehl, 38, who guided Memphis of the International League last season and gained a reputation for his successful work with younger players, was given a one-year contract. He was also the opportunity to oversee the further development of many of his proteges at the National League level.

But despite having directed many of the Expos earlier in their careers and his familiarity with players currently in the farm system. Kuehl said it was too early to assess performances for 1976.

"I can't give you an answer to the over-all picture," Kuehl said. "I haven't seen all the players on the team perform. I have seen them at spring training, but I still have a lot of evaluating to do."

Kuehl, who had flown in from Santo Domingo, where he is managing Escogido of the Dominican Republic Winter League, returned to Santo Domingo Friday night.

John McHale, president of the Expos, announced Kuehl's appointment as a replacement for Mauch, the only manager the Expos have known since they joined the National League in 1969.

In 1975, the club began what it termed "Phase Two" of its operation. Under Mauch's guidance, the Expos were touted to emerge as a contender in the East Division because of a transfusion of younger players.

Instead, the team wound up tied with the Chicago Cubs for fifth and last place in the division and sported a 75-87 record.

Mauch, along with his coaching staff of Dave Bristol, Jerry Zimmerman, and Cal McLish, were fired Oct. 1 and first base coach Walt Hriniak was to be placed in one of the club's minor league affiliates.

Duke Snider, the former slugger for the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers and Mauch's batting instructor at Montreal— will continue in his second role with the club as a color commentator on Expos telecasts.

The firings and Kuehl's hiring were only part of an organizational shakeup by the Expos.

The post of general manager was eliminated Friday. Jim Fanning, the man who had held it, was made vice president in charge of player personnel with expanded responsibility for all Expos' players and field personnel on both the major and minor league level.

Kuehl coached such current Expos as catchers Gary Carter and Barry Foote during two years as manager of Montreal's Class AA Quebec City Carnavals in 1972 and 1973, and for a time in the Class AAA International League with the Memphis Blues during the next two seasons.

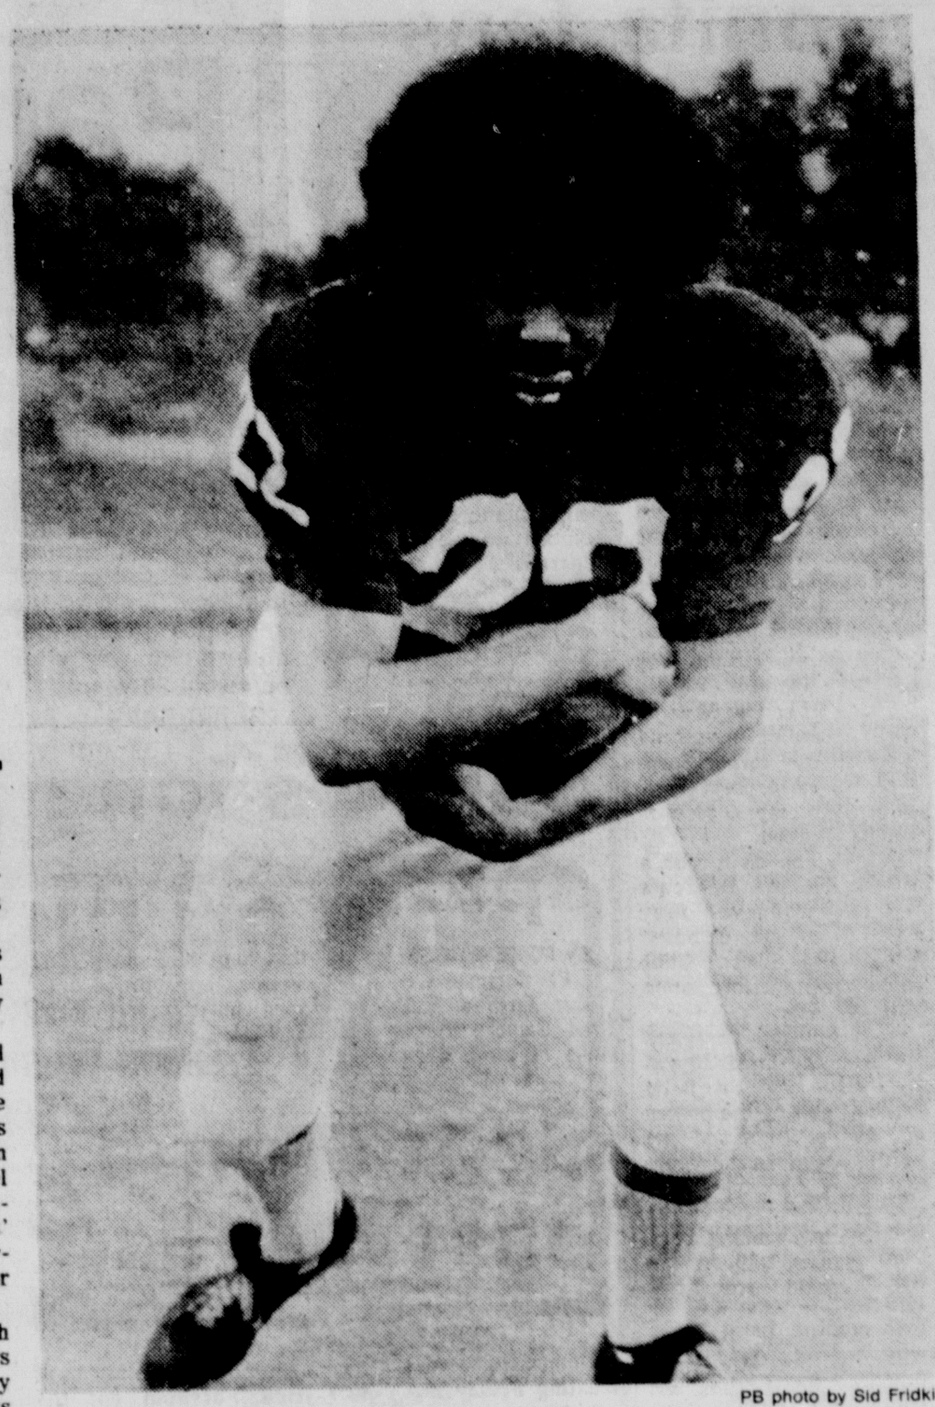

Kuehl, who twice won Manager - of - the - Year awards in the minors, won out over other candidates for the Montreal job, including Tom Lasorda, third base coach with Los Angeles; Preston Gomez, former manager of the Houston Astros, and Alvin Dark, recently fired by Charles O. Finley of the American League's Oakland A's.

"I was hoping this was what it was all about," Kuehl said after being summoned by the Expos. "But I was afraid it wouldn't be, so I didn't even call my wife."

He said he called his wife in St. Petersburg, Fla., late Thursday night" after the decision was reached.

Although he wouldn't allow himself to be pinned down on the degree of improvement he expected the Expos to show in 1976, he did acknowledge: "Overall, we have such a young club that it should improve because many of the players have not yet reached their peak."

While Mauch was a rigid disciplinarian, Kuehl said he expects the players to discipline themselves. "Discipline should come from within," he said, "and you and your players should program your minds accordingly. I like my teams to be as close as a family."

Mounties try to end jinx with Hornets

By MIKE RAWLINSON
PB Staff Writer

Mt. San Antonio College tries to end a dozen years of frustration against Fullerton on the gridiron tonight at 7:30 when it hosts the Hornets in a South Coast Conference battle that could turn the season around for both teams.

The 1-5 Mounties need a victory to remain in contention for the SCC title, which could go to unbeaten Orange Coast (7-0) for the second year in a row.

The 4-2 Hornets were beaten by Orange Coast in the SCC opener three weeks ago and are now 2-1 in conference games, sharing second place with Cerritos. MSAC and Santa Ana are 1-1 in conference games, sharing third place. Fullerton can't afford another loss if it hopes to share the title should OCC get knocked off along the way.

It will be the 32nd meeting for MSAC and Fullerton. The Hornets haven't lost to the Mounties in the last 11 games. MSAC's last victory came in 1963 when a left handed quarterback named Joe Keough fashioned a 14-0 decision.

By coincidence, the Mounties have a southpaw ready for tonight's game. Freshman quarterback Greg Gano will make only his second start of the season against the Hornets. Gano has played in each of MSAC's six games but has seen action mostly in a backup role to righthander Flavio Garcia. Gano's previous start was against L.A. Harbor, a game the Mounties lost, 13-7.

In Mission Conference games, Citrus and Chaffey prepare for their annual tussle next Saturday. Citrus goes after its seventh straight victory this season against hard luck San Bernardino in a 7:30 p.m. game at Citrus Stadium, while Chaffey travels to Balboa Stadium in San Diego for a 1:30 p.m. contest with San Diego City College.

The Owls are ranked No. 2 in the state behind No. 1 Orange Coast, and San Bernardino, which has suffered through a 1-5 season, so far would like nothing better than beating them.

"We are still trying to figure out how San Bernardino loses," said coach Strycula. "They appear to have excellent personnel in all departments but seem to lose a different way each time."

The coach hopes that trend continues through tonight.

Chaffey, 2-4, has had a little hard luck of its own. Coach Willie Richardson would like nothing better than to beat San Diego today and thus be in a position to challenge for the Mission title.

It's Stags' day of truth

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

Today is the day of revelation for Claremont-Mudd.

The Stags will find out this afternoon how strong a contender they are for the SCIAC title. Defending champion Redlands provides the opposition (Stags Field, 1:30 p.m.)

Elsewhere, La Verne (0-0-1 in conference and 2-3-1 overall) is at Pomona-Pitzer (0-1 and 0-5) tonight at 7:30 p.m. Whittier (1-0 and 2-3-1) is at Occidental (0-1 and 1-3) also at 7:30 p.m.

Redlands, 0-0-1 in conference and 3-2-1 overall, administered a 42-13 whipping to Claremont-Mudd, 1-0 and 3-1, at Redlands last year.

This year Redlands defeated USD 31-12, USIU 17-13 and Occidental 30-3 in a non conference game (The two meet on conference competition Nov. 15).

Cal Lutheran and Azusa Pacific, both undefeated this year, are the two teams that have brought about the Bulldogs' losses. Cal Lutheran beat them 26-7 while APC squeezed by 12-10.

Redlands was lucky to come out of the conference opener with a tie against La Verne last week. A fumble at the goalline took away what would have been the winning touchdown and the officials called it a touchback when Redlands recovered in the endzone. It could have been a safety which would still have given the Leos a 27-25 win.

John Zinda's surprising Stags rank third among conference teams in total offense and second in defense. C-M is averaging 266.5 yards per game on offense and is allowing an average of 283.5 yards a game.

Redlands leads in offense and is third in defense. The Bulldogs are averaging 337.6 yards per game offensively while allowing an average of 1.1 yards per game more than the Stags.

C-M's only loss a 31-3 beating at Cal Lutheran. But Zinda says it was in that game that his team really came together. The Stags hold wins over St. Mary's (7-3), USIU (29-7) and Oxy (19-13).

Against Oxy, running back Tim Goodwin, a 5-9, 175-pound junior, became the third Stag runner to rush for over 100 yards in a game. Previously Jim Reed (5-8, 170) and Mike McGehee (5-9, 168) had turned the trick.

McGehee ranks eighth among conference rushers with an average of 4.7 yards per carry (246 yards in 52 carries).

Quarterback Joe Watts is fifth among the passers with 22 completions in 50 attempts for 306 yards and two touchdowns. An additional 20 yards rushing gives Watts 326 yards, an average of 81.5 per game for a fifth-place ranking in total offense.

Receiver Paul Solon is fifth in the conference. The 6-1, 180-pound junior has 13 receptions for 201 yards and two TDs.

Punter Jon Begerow's 37-yard average for 22 punts puts in in the number five ranking in that category.

Kelly Yank of Redlands ranks first in rushing and Dave D-Arcangelo is fourth. Quarterback SteveVento is the leading passer and total offense leader. The Bulldogs' Brian DeRoo is the leading receiver and leading punter.

La Verne ordinarily would fatten up at Pomona-Pitzer. Despite the Sagehens' improvement last week, they simply don't have the personnel to play four good quarters against the powerful Leopards.

However injuries may change the complexion of that game. Quarterback Randy Brown of La Verne sprained an ankle in practice this week and may not be able to play tonight. If so, signal calling chores will be handled by Ricky Tedford who has played little this year.

Defensive tackle Chris Willits' chronic shoulder problem will keep him out of the game and maybe out for the rest of the season.

Sports briefs

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Dempsey, the 80-year-old former heavyweight champion, was released Friday from New York University Hospital after a week's stay for what family sources had said was a mild stroke.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Giacomin, the New York Rangers' No. 1 goaltender for the past 10 years, has been dealt to the Detroit Red Wings for the $30,000 National Hockey League waiver price, the Rangers announced Friday.

Giacomin, 36, was beginning his 11th season with the Rangers and had a career goals-against average of 2.72. He was the club's all-time leader with 49 regular season shutouts.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Twins President Calvin Griffith says he has no intention of trading picher Bert Blyleven.

Blyleven said Thursday he had written Griffith sometime ago, asking to be traded. He said he felt he had been underpaid for four or five seasons.

FLOWERY BRANCH, Ga. (AP) — Mike Frangkiser, a pizza parlor operator from Manhattan, Kan., won the national championship Friday in Formula Vee road racing, with an engine constructed by the third place finisher.

Coliseum is ready for cycles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Speedway motorcycle racing, bidding to regain its pre-World War II popularity, moves back into a major stadium tonight when Mike Bast attempts to defend his national championship.

The 16 top riders, all from California because the sport hasn't caught on again yet in the rest of the nation, will vie at the Los Angeles Coliseum with Mike Bast's top rival expected to be his brother, Steve.

Yet the point leader has been Scott Sivadge, 21, of Chatsworth who hopes to depose the Basts of speedway racing. Aside from the brothers, only Rick Woods, 27, of Newport Beach, has won a national title and he has three of them.

Mike Bast, 22, of Sepulveda, has twice won the title and brother Steve, 23, of Sherman Oaks also has a pair of championships.

This time the track measuring one-fifth of a mile has been put down at one end of the Coliseum where Washington and UCLA meet this afternoon. After those fans leave, the stadium will be reopened for those attending the 8 p.m., motorcycle races.

Colleges rate, hate and wait

By Associated Press

While top-ranked Ohio State plays the rating game against Indiana and runner-up Oklahoma plays the hating game with Oklahoma State, fourth-ranked Southern Cal meets California in a waiting game...waiting to find out who its new coach will be.

Oh, John McKay will be at the helm of the USC Trojans through the end of the season, but the veteran coach will step down after the last final gun and head for his new job as coach of the new Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the National Football League.

McKay said he wanted to wait until the end of the season to make the announcement, but said the pressure was mounting for his family and team and "it got to a point where it was best it should come out." He told his players Friday and said "they pretty much suspected" it was coming.

Poor Indiana, a 55-7 loser to seventh-ranked Michigan last week, invades Ohio State's lair knowing the Buckeyes like to better anything Michigan does.

"The best thing we have going for us," says Coach Lee Corso, "is that Ohio State has to play with just one football. That means some of those superstars don't have the ball on each play. They have so many weapons they're unbelievable. They're so good, they make a good defensive team look bad."

Indiana has never been accused of being a good defensive team, but Corso is looking forward to meeting the Buckeyes anyway.

"People think I'm crazy when I say we're looking forward to the opportunity to play the No. 1 team in the country," he says. "It's a challenge, and that's what life is all about."

Meanwhile, Oklahoma travels up the interstate from Norman to Stillwater for its annual Big Eight intrastate squabble with Oklahoma State. The Sooners aren't making too many Aggie jokes since the Cowboys are tied for 19th with Miami of Ohio in The Associated Press ratings.

Another key Big Eight contest finds third-ranked Nebraska at No. 12 Missouri on national television (ABC-TV, 9:30 a.m., PST), followed by the Southern Cal-California clash as one of three regional TV games at 1 p.m. The others are Louisiana State-Mississippi at Jackson, Miss., and South Carolina-North Carolina State.

Texas A&M, the No. 5-ranked team, is idle while No. 6 Alabama tackles Mississippi State at night in Jackson, No. 7 Michigan visits Minnesota to do battle over the Little Brown Jug, eighth-ranked Texas plays at Southern Methodist, No. 9 Penn State is at No. 14 Maryland and No. 10 Arizona State at Utah.

Elsewhere, the schedule finds No. 11 Floriad at Auburn, Washington at No. 13 UCLA and Navy at No. 15 Notre Dame, No. 16 Colorado at Iowa State, No. 17 Arizona at Brigham Young, No. 18 San Diego State at Pacific under the lights and Toledo at Miami, O.

The bad news at Oklahoma is that the injury situation is the worst in Barry Switzer's three years as head coach. The good news is that one of the walking wounded—star guard Terry Webb—is close to 100 per cent after sitting out last week's game.

"We're playing with a different line-up on offense every week," says Switzer. "That's been our problem. And even if these guys can play on Saturdays, they need to practice during the week. A lot of 'em are too sore for that. It's extremely important that a player practices. That's one of the key things you do to prepare for somebody as tough as Oklahoma State.

"It'll be the toughest game so far this year. They're a real strong ballclub and they're playing well together. Terry Miller is a super back and Scott Burk is their answer at quarterback. I can tell you how strong their defense is by remembering how well they shut us down most of the game last year."

Nebraska is still on cloud 9 from that memorable 63-21 shellacking of Colorado but Coach Tom Osborne won't having any trouble getting them back on the ground for Missouri.

"We won't have to say anything to the squad about Missouri. We've lost to them two times in a row."

A record crowd of 55,000 is expected at Maryland's Byrd Stadium as the Terrapins try to end a string of 13 consecutive losses to Penn State.

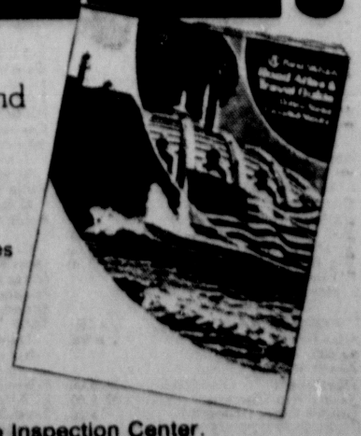

"Maryland has an outstanding team," says Penn State Coach Joe Paterno. "They could be even better than they were last year."

Last year produced a hardfought 24-17 Penn State triumph as sub defensive back Jeff Hite returned an interception 79 yards for one score and ran 21 yards for a second touchdown after stealing a lateral.

The Nittany Lions have allowed only two touchdowns in winning their last five outings.

"We have played well defensively," admits Paterno, "perhaps as well as we have since 1969. We aren't as overpowering as that 1969 defense, but we have been getting the job done."

May force change in NFL-TV blackouts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A continuing decrease in National Football League season ticket sales could prompt a change in the current television policy, says Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle told the House communications subcommittee that the NFL has no current plans to change its format of televising all road games back to a club's home city.

"We may not continue with the regional format if things don't go well over the next few years," said Rozelle. "If attendance continues to go down, and if we feel it is because of the lifting of the blackout on home games, we may have to change the TV format."

Rozelle told the committee that the NFL lost $9 million in revenues, primarily from decreased season ticket sales, during the 1974 and 1975 seasons as a result of the anti-blackout law.

The committee is considering legislation introduced by Chairman Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., to prohibit permanently any league-imposed blackouts of games sold out in advance. Prior to the law enacted in 1973, the NFL refused to permit the showing of any home games.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was to testify today before the panel.

Rozelle said the NFL football fans have been offered an increasing number of network game telecasts since it began its present contracts in 1961.

"The NFL fan now can see an average of about 74 professional football games on television each season," he said, adding that the anti-blackout law introduced new risks of local team over-saturation.

"I don't hestiate to attribute a significant portion of the declining attendance at NFL preseason games to the steady diet of home team telecasts in many NFL cities."

Rozelle said prior to 1974, season ticket sales by NFL clubs had shown a steady annual increase. "In fact, the trend toward wholly sold-out stadiums was relied upon by proponents of the bill was evidence that the league should not be concerned with the law.

"The number of season ticket sales decreased for the first time in NFL history in the 1974 season," he said. "The trend downward has continued into the 1975 season."

Rozelle told the committee that there has been a total decrease of 150,674 season ticket sales since 1973, with 93 per cent of the loss coming from those who were required to televise some or all of their home games locally.

"Our judgment is that the decrease in season ticket sales is a clear indication of an erosion of fan support caused by the local telecasting of home games," the commissioner said.

NBA cannot discuss merger

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Until the National Basketball Association resolves its formidable legal obstacles here is little use to consider a merger with the American Basketball Association, says NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien.

"At the present time we are precluded from even talking about it," O'Brien observed in a wide-ranging interview with Joe Mc[illegible], sports editor of the Kansas City Star.

"If Dave DeBusschere (ABA commissioner) and I go to lunch, we can talk about the weather and politics, but we can't talk about a merger. I don't see a merger or a consolidation in the near future."

One of the problems facing the NBA is a players suit which would do away with the draft and any type of compensation procedure should a player play out his contract and attempt to go to another team.

Also, under terms of a current court ruling, a merger cannot be accomplished without approval of the players association. And with two rival leagues to play against each other for better salary offers, the players have an edge they like.

"The ABA is alive and kicking," O'Brien said. "It has some solid, outstanding talent and is significant competition in terms of acquiring players."

In recent weeks, all of the members of the ABA have applied for admission to the NBA. O'Brien has accepted the applications, but that's all.

"Let's assume that the legal obstacles to a merger didn't exist," he said. "Even in that event I don't know what the attitude of our league would be to taking in new members. I think it is an oversimplification when we say out of hand that costwise and salarywise the answer to all of our problems is a merger.

"We've gone through a major period of expansion, but in the future I see our growth as being more internal. It's a matter of building on what we have done."

O'Brien has oeen commissioner about five months. "When I was named to this job, people said O'Brien was being made commissioner because he could work out the legislation for a merger," he said. "That's not so. Nothing like that has taken place. Nothing is in the offing."

O'Brien also had these comments:

"Audience ratings in other sports are leveling off or dropping, but in the case of the NBA it's almost horizons unlimited. We have the results of a recent poll showing that among Americans 35 and under, basketball is the No. 1 sport."

"The question has been asked as to how I can fulfill this function when I am paid by the owners, but this doesn't inhibit me in any way. The fact my salary is paid by the owners is of no concern to me."

"I've raised the fines for technical fouls. I intend to be very tough on enforcement. You have to keep the game under control. Hockey needs an element of roughness, but we don't. It's such a beautiful sport we don't need an extra dimension."

Boom over for sports?

By Associated Press

In its brief and infamous existence, the World Football League managed to scar the sports landscape with record amounts of unpaid bills and broken promises. But it would be a mistake to believe the WFL's passing is only a result of its own incompetence.

Among other and more spectacular things, the WFL was a victim of a sports world that has grown bigger, more expensive and more complex than the American sports consumer is capable of supporting.

"We will not be the last" to go, said league President Chris Hemmeter, and there is every reason to believe he is right.

Since the boom days of the mid and late 1960s, when promoter Gary Davidson created leagues at will, expansion has gotten out of hand. Even the most stable of leagues fear instability. Even the most powerful of sports are beset by labor, economic and legal headaches that threaten to change and shrink the face of American sport.

The structure of most sports are in question in the courts and their future is in question at the box office. Not in recent history has sport faced so many serious challenges to its very existence.

A brief look at various leagues and sports illustrates the point:

Football: Only the National Football League remains. Last year, a record eight teams lost money. There have been two player strikes in a year, there is still no labor contract and Congress has held hearings on the matter. The league faces a pair of federal court suits challenging its rules which hold a player to one team and is on trial on 16 charges of unfair labor practice.

Basketball: Twenty-five of the 28 teams in the two pro leagues lost money last year. The average NBA player salary is $100,000, and there is the threat of a strike because no labor contract exists. The ABA wants to merge, but a federal judge hearing a suit which challenges the rules that bind a player to one team says he must approve first. Owners in both leagues predict some teams will die; one ABA club was folded last week. The NBA called off expansion plans last year.

Hockey: The average player salary in the two pro leagues exceeds $70,000; a majority of the clubs lost money last year. "If something drastic doesn't happen, there will be a contraction of teams soon," said NHL Commissioner Clarence Campbell. The NHL has come close to folding two teams in the last year and has put off expansion plans.

Tennis: The two-year-old World Team Tennis cut four teams last year and finished its second season without any team having made money.

Colleges: Faced with its most critical economic crisis, the NCAA has enacted a series of economic measures, one of which has been taken to federal court by angry large schools which threaten to form their own superconference. A few major colleges say they will soon give up intercollegiate sports if their losses aren't cut. All colleges face more spending to comply with laws demanding equality for women.

The television jackpot is not as lucrative as it once was, and even it cannot fill some of the big economic gaps that exist.

Each NFL team received about $2.2 million in broadcast revenue last year, yet one-third of them still could not break even. The National Hockey League lost its television contract. Ratings for pro basketball were down. The money ABC pours into college football goes only to the few schools whose games are shown.

A federal court ruling in an Internal Revenue Service case in Atlanta has sharply reduced the amount of money an owner may write off as player cost when he buys a team. Previously, some owners wrote off nearly the entire cost of a franchise, depreciating it over five years on a claim that the value of his players were declining.

That way, it was possible to own a team that lost millions and still be able to absorb the loss through taxes and by applying whatever loss remained to other businesses one might own.

The seminar is set to begin at 9 a.m. and con- clude by 4 p.m. Registra- tion is $25 per person prior to Nov. 5, or $30 at the door.

SOCAP was organized in 1973 to Foster the integrity of business in its dealings with consumers; promote harmonious relationships between business and government and con- sumers, and advance the consumer affairs profes- sion.

EARLE ANDERSON

Chorale to sing at Nazarene

The Earle Anderson Chorale will perform at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday night at 6 in Upland.

The choral group is com- posed of singers from throughout Southern California. Soloists featured are Dwaine Douglas, tenor; Wayne and Joan Eikenberry, baritone and soprano; Dave and Esther Johnson, baritone and soprano duo; Lou Jones, soprano; Judith Rundlett, mezzo soprano; Frank Small, tenor; Dan Melvin, tenor; and Duane Kuntz, baritone.

Anderson is a professor of music at Azusa Pacific College. He has sung in many churches and con- certs throughout the area.

The chorale will present an evening of sacred clas- sics and folk songs.

Pianist collects miniature pianos

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Al Jarvis is thinking small these days. But in his case, that's no problem.

Jarvis collects tiny pianos, some so small they sit on the tip of his thumb.

His collection of miniatures, numbering about 400, comes from as far away as India, Russia, Italy, Austria, Germany, England and Canada, and like most collections this one started almost by acci- dent.

Jarvis, a pianist who has played in clubs and lounges at this desert resort for more than 10 years, recalls he was in the hospital in 1959 when a friend who collects miniature ele- phants thought he might also be tickled by her ivories.

After bringing him gifts of several little pachyderms, she came in one day and said: "I don't know why I should bring you elephants — you should have pianos."

Now he has the miniature piano habit. Buys them all the time. His friends buy them for him too.

His most recent acquisi- tion comes from Leningrad, although it probably was still called St. Petersburg when the tiny bear first sat down on the tiny piano bench to play accompaniment for a tiny bearitone.

Another time he found a coal-black piano all dusty a nook at a New Jersey book store.

"We rushed home and I washed it. The coal-black piano turned out to be of beautiful white Italian porcelain," he said in an interview.

Jarvis also owns an up- right played by a stuffed frog, a sterling silver up- right that doubles as a pill box, one made of jade, a hand-carved keyboard from India inlaid with mother of pearl, an Austrian midget piano with petit-point beneath the lid and matching stool, and a Dresden china piano, made as one of a pair, the other one owned by Liberace.

DMV mails out new renewals

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Department of Motor Vehicles has mailed out the first auto registra- tion renewal notices under a new staggered ex- piration date system.

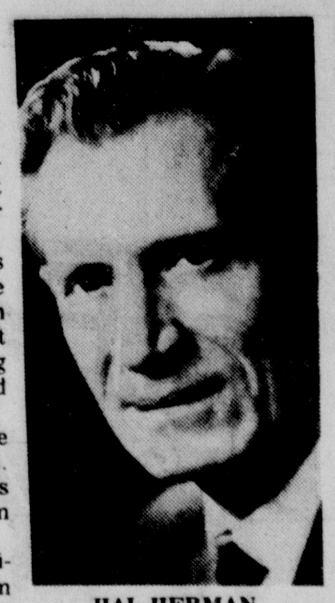

It predicted longer lines than usual at department offices because of ques- tions over the new routine.

If you don't have any questions after reading the instructions in English, Spanish, Chinese or Japanese, you can avoid the lines by mailing in your check.

Instead of all 16 million re-registrations falling due at year's end, there will be 120 expiration dates during the year.

So, to get the system started, some vehicles will be re-registered for as short a period as seven months, while others will be re-registered for as long as 18 months.

Thus, if your new registration date is early, you will pay less than the usual fee. If it is late, you will pay more.

HAL HERMAN

Evangelist will be speaker

Evangelist Hal Herman will be the guest speaker Sunday at a 6 p.m. worship service at the First As- sembly of God Church in Pomona.

Herman recently returned from an extended ministry tour of Europe, Africa and Asia, one of eight around-the-world trips he has made to con- duct gospel crusades in such places as Paris, Rome, Berlin, Cairo, Calcutta, Hong Kong and Tokyo.

He will be accompanied by his wife, Mildred, who is an accomplished violinist and pianist.

Assassinations unavoidable, say Americans in Harris poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans, by a 74-19 per cent majority, believe that it is no longer possible for a president to avoid being as- sassinated "if someone really wants to shoot him," according to a Harris poll.

A 65-20 majority still believe that the assassina- tion of President John F. Kennedy was the act of a "larger conspiracy" rather than the endeavor of one individual. A 55-30 per cent majority feel the same about the shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy; and 60-24 per cent, about the killing of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

However, the pollster said 50 per cent or more of those polled feel that the two recent alleged assas- sination attempts against President Ford in Cali- fornia were the acts of individuals, not part of a conspiracy.

On Sept. 22, Sara Jane Moore allegedly fired a pistol at Ford outside the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, missing him when an ex-Marine hit her arm.

On Sept. 5, Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme pointed a gun at the Presi- dent as he walked toward the state Capitol in Sacramento.

EDWARD B. COLE

Dr. Cole to address Baptists

The Rev. Edward B. "Ted" Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pomona, will be the featured speaker Wednes- day at the opening session of the annual meeting of the American Baptist Church of the Pacific Southwest.

The annual event, ex- pected to be attended by more than 5,000 ministers and laymen, will be held at the Hall of Liberty, Forest Lawn Hollywood Hills. The event will continue through Saturday.

Mr. Cole's theme for the 6:45 p.m. opening session will be "Faithless Works. . . or. . .Working Faith."

The 6,000-member First Baptist Church of Pomona is the largest of the American Baptist Churches.

Presiding officer for the annual meeting will be the Rev. Douglas W. Jeffrey, president of the American Baptist Pacific Southwest Region and pastor of the Fountain Valley First Bap- tist Church.

Louisiana vote

Gov. Edwards favored to win

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Despite challenges from five candidates, Democratic Gov. Edwin Edwards is expected to be re-elected when Louisiana voters go to the polls to- day under a new open elec- tion law that does away with party primaries.

A major pitch made by Edwards in his low-keyed campaign was that he should be reelected to maintain a forum for speaking out on national energy policies.

A former congressman from oil-rich south Louisiana, the 48-year-old Edwards, who is limited to one more term in office, has called for more off- shore drilling, stricter con- servation measures and relaxation of the environ- mental regulations which he says inhibit develop- ment of new energy sources.

Edwards' leading chal- lengers are state Sen. Bob Jones, son of a former governor, and Wade O. Martin, veteran secretary of state. Martin has at- tacked Edwards' fiscal policies, and Jones has said he can better handle the state's $2.8-billion budget.

The other candidates are Ken Lewis, 62, a Baton Rouge insurance agent; Cecil M. Pizzo, 62, a self- described bishop in the Metaphysical Life Church; and A. Roswell Thompson, 64, a New Orleans stocks and bonds salesman and grand dragon of his own version of the Ku Klux Klan.

With Democrats dom- inating state politics as they have for the past century, however, the changes brought by the new election law were not expected to be as dramatic as they would be in a state with a more even Democrat-Republican bal- ance.

Under the new system, all candidates — regard- less of party label — ap- pear on the same ballot.

Those who win a majority in the first elec- tion take office. Otherwise, the top two in each race meet in a runoff Dec. 13.

In theory, the plan could result in two Democrats or two Republicans meeting in a runoff. However, Lance Britton, a lieutenant governor candidate, is the only Republican for statewide office and he is expected to get about 20 per cent of the vote.

In all except a few isolated local races, any runoffs will be between Democrats, and that repres- ents little change in a state where the Democ- ratic nomination under the old party primary sys- tem had long been tanta- mount to election in the majority of cases.

The impact of another new election law, a cam- paign finance reporting act, was difficult to assess.

Most candidates claimed its requirement that large contributors be identified by name on public reports discouraged campaign con- tributions.

Also contested in the election are seven other statewide offices, 113 of 144 legislative seats and hundreds of district and lo- cal offices.

Angola

Woman reporter disappears

LUANDA, Angola (AP) —A woman reporter for the Canadian Broadcasting Co. was taken from a resturant by two men Thursday night, becoming about the tenth foreign journalist to disappear since warfare between three rival independence movements intensified here.

Phyllis Johnson was es- corted from the hotel restaurant by a white man and an African civilian policeman and there was no indication as to her whereabouts. She had toured Angola recently with the Organization of African Unity conciliatory commission which is seek- ing harmony between the three movements before independence from Por- tugal is granted Nov. 11.

Two South African journalists, Roger Sargent and Chris Van Der Merwe, arrived here Monday and checked out of their hotel Wednesday morning. But they have not been seen by any of the people they were to contact.

Pastor's son to be installed as his aide

The Rev. John A. Larrabee will be installed Sunday as associate pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Dimas where he will assist his father.

Mr. Larrabee attended Bob Jones University in South Carolina and received his bachelor degree from the Los Angeles Baptist College in 1968. He continued his studies at the Los Angeles Baptist Theological Seminary.

He has served as assis- tant pastor of Kingwood Bible Church of Salem, Ore. and as high school in- structor and coach in the Salem Academy. He is former director of youth and music at the Bible Baptist Church of Santa Monica and has traveled throughout the country as an evangelist.

JOHN A. LARRABEE

The Larrabee family at- tended the New Tribes In- stitute of Baker, Ore. for special missionary train- ing during the past year. He and his wife, Joyce, have two children, Christine and John II.

His father, the Rev. K.T. Larrabee has served the San Dimas church as pastor since 1969 after a previous term from 1955 to 1960. The younger Larrabee attended elemen- tary schools in San Dimas. His duties will include be- ing minister of youth and music and assistant to the pastor.

The installation message at the 11 a.m. service will be "Words of Wisdom from the Apostle Paul." Com- munion will be celebrated.

We can keep liquids hot or cold for many hours in vacuum bottles, sometimes called Thermos bottles.

A vacuum bottle is really a glass bottle within a bottle. The two bottles are sealed at the top.

Most of the air has been pumped out of the space between the bottles so that there is a vacuum there.

Heat cannot travel easily through a vacuum. By shutting the heat in or out, the vacuum bottle helps keep hot things hot and cold things cold.

Without the two walls and a vacuum the temperature of the liquid in the bottle would quickly reach the temperature of the air around it.

To help reduce the transfer of heat by radiation (rays of heat), the walls of the bottles are given a silvery coating which reflects heat.

If the vacuum bottle becomes cracked, air forces its way in through the crack. Then the vacuum bottle is ruined, because there is no longer any vacuum.

Here's wonderful news! A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

DON'T BE SO MODEST!

Brag a little

You can't afford to be modest. After all, you're in business to sell. You have to tell buyers what you have to offer, why it pays them to do business with you, why you and your service and prices and products and sales policies are best.

The most economically effective way you can brag to your prospective customers is with a display advertisement in the Progress Bulletin.

CALL 622-1201 TODAY

and let one of our expert display advertising sales staff assist you in planning your advertising program.

A new boom in art classes

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

From a medical standpoint we had come a long way in Pomona by the year 1904. Actually there wasn't a single pesthouse in the Valley. It must be admitted, however, that even in 1904 we were taking no chances. Smallpox cases were still being quarantined in tents far away from the center of population. But by 1904 the patients were sometimes even recovering. An article in the August 1, 1904, Pomona Daily Review proves that conclusively.

"The young lady who is quarantined for smallpox in a tent out near Ganesha Park is getting well," the report stated. "Unless something unforseen occurs she will be declared out of quarantine in about a week or more."

And 1904 was a noteworthy year here in Pomona for several other reasons. It was then, for instance, that members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church, defying the old admonition that religion and politics should never be mixed, took a straw vote and came up with the accurate prediction that Theodore Roosevelt would be elected President over Parks or Swallow.

Also, much to the consternation of the merchants in bone dry Pomona, 1904 was the year when both Spadra and Chino voted in saloons. As a consequence our businessmen were sadly shaking their heads and mournfully predicting that this could well mean a stunning setback for local business. They envisioned countless thirsty Pomonans heading Chinoward and Spadraward, carrying along with them a lot of good money that might otherwise have been spent in the old home town.

But while the problems of pestilence, elections and liquor were the major topics of the day in 1904, never let it be said that our efforts to create a better Pomona ended there. Heavens no! We were also well aware that as the twig is bent the bow is inclined — that in this city there was definitely a need for intelligent juvenile direction and counseling. And so, on November 15, 1904, the South Pomona Child's Study Circle met at the Tenth Street Kindergarten to discuss "Untruthfulness Among Children."

Masters' moves differ

It is easy to draw incorrect conclusions from studying games of the great "attack" masters. Because these virtuosos will so often sacrifice early in the game for a prolonged and winning attack against a consequently exposed king, it is often wrongly assumed that baring the king is tantamount to a win.

In fact, discomfiting the king may be inadequate compensation if the cost is loss of time. Then the position may recoil on the alleged attacker.

A classic example is the Meek-Morphy game in 1855. Meek, guided by ideas then popular, launched the following premature attack right off the bat: 1. P-K4, P-K4; 2. N-KB3, N-QB; 3. P-Q4, PxP; 4. B-QB4, B-B4; 5. N-N5?, N-R3, reaching the position of diagram one.

Meek has set the stage for a pseudo-attack, which, though harrassing the black king, only results in a net loss of time for white. He played 6. NxBP?, NxN; 7. BxN check, KxB; 8. Q-R5 check, P-N3; 9. QxB . . .

It may seem that the black king is now vulnerable, but after 9 . . . P-Q3; 10. Q-QN5, R-K1 (see Diagram Two), we see it is white who is on the run. Morphy may at any time complete his castling 'by hand' (e.g. . . . K-N1). In addition he has a palpable lead in development.

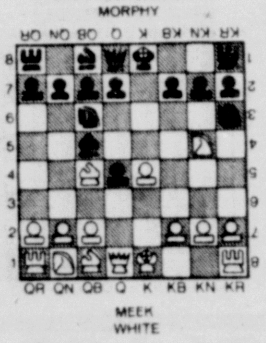

He already presses the white king pawn, and his own queen pawn is an irritating presence in the white position.

Meek's reaction to his difficulties was to squander even more time with 11. Q-N3 check?. But after 11. . . . P-Q4; 12. P-KB3, N-R4; 13. Q-Q3, PxP; 14. PxP, Q-R5 check; 15. P-N3, RxP check; 16. K-B2, Q-K2; 17. N-Q2, R-K6; 18. Q-N5, P-B3; 19. Q-B1 (see Diagram Three), his overall position was miserable indeed, not to mention the position of his own king.

Morphy tightened the screws with 19 . . . B-R6!, and the reeling queen took final residence on its original square with 20. Q-Q1; 20. QxB would have led to mate after 21. . . . R-B7 check, K-B3; 22. Q-K6 check, etc.).

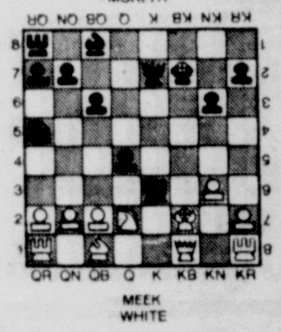

White's finish is now at hand. Morphy played 22. . . . R-KB1. After 23. N-B3 (see Diagram Four), his ironic 23. . . . K-K1 added the final touch. The white knight and game cannot be defended.

'Oldest' woman enjoying life

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — At 117, Genoveva Gutierrez may be oldest woman in Texas. She also may be oldest woman in the country to get in a bathing suit and paddle around a swimming pool, which she does frequently.

Mrs. Gutierrez was born in Guanajuanto, Mexico, three years before the Civil War began. She came to Texas as a 16-year-old bride. She and her husband farmed near Martindale, east of her present home in San Marcos in south-central Texas. She has outlived her husband and nine of 14 children born to them. Now she lives with a 74-year-old son and his wife in San Marcos.

Her hearing is not good but she is spry enough to slip out of her son's front yard and walk eight blocks to a small chapel to kneel and say her prayers. Her daughter-in-law, Joaquina Gutierrez, says she is still very good at patting out thin corn tortillas, preferring to make them with corn she has ground herself. She belongs to a swimming class of grandfathers and grandmothers taught in a San Marcos city pool.

Antique wise

QUESTION: We have a beautiful old meat platter marked "Cauldron Ware" in addition to a crown, some other lettering we have been unable to read, and the word England.

My mother purchased this piece about five years ago at an estate sale for the sum of $2. Can you give me some idea what it might sell for today? Its appearnce indicates that it is quite old, but has had very good care over the years as it is perfect. The decoration is a colorful big turkey. Mrs. M.L.C.

ANSWER: Large Cauldron turkey platters are currently priced from about $60-$75. The firm began operation after 1905.

Story by Joseph H. Firman
PB staff writer

More than 4,000 students, ranging from teenagers to senior citizens, are taking art courses at Mt San Antonio, Citrus and Chaffey colleges this year.

"All our art classes are filled to capacity," says Ron Ownby, chairman of the MSAC Art Department. Robert Hallett, head of the Citrus Art Department says, "The demand for art classes is heavy, especially in evening and Saturday classes." Chaffey Art Department Chairman Robert Fleck says, "Ninety per cent of our art classes are closed this year."

The colleges offer beginning, intermediate and advanced classes in oils, watercolor, drawing, ceramics, sculpture and art history and appreciation. There are classes in printmaking, commercial art, interior design, lettering, life drawing and illustration. Courses are also offered in black art, Mexican art, photography, elementary school art, and such hand skills as jewelry, crewel embroidery and metalwork.

An interesting, though not unique aspect of art class enrollment at all three colleges is the large number of adults who are taking courses — housewives, business men, retired people, the unemployed.

"We get many housewives seeking a means of expressing themselves," says Ownby. "We have men who work and return to college for a new experience. Our range is from kids just out of high school to 60-year-olds."

Greater leisure in modern society has helped to bring more people to the brush and palette, the sculptor's chisel and the potter's wheel, Ownby feels, and Fleck agrees, that the Women's Lib has helped to send more women into the classroom and studio.

"Older students lend maturity to the class and help the younger students get perspective," Ownby says. "It helps the instructor, too, to have mature people in the class."

The majority of students at the three two-year colleges do not expect or plan to be artists, though each year many go on to further art study or into related fields — advertising, commercial design, interior decorating. Some plan to teach art, but Hallett says, "The art teaching profession is in a vacuum right now. Teachers are a glut on the market."

"Most of our students are not art majors," Fleck says. "Only a small percentage of them go on in art. But the basic training stands them in good stead regardless of what they go into. They have learned to do something that enriches their lives. There is a swing toward the creative process — possibly a reaction to the mechanical world."

Hallett agrees that art training is valuable whatever field a student takes up.

"With a little art training he will be better informed; he will understand more about art and esthetics," Hallett says. "He will enjoy more and have a critical eye for painting, sculpture, architecture and interior design. He will understand the elements of color, balance, perspective and proportion."

Basic art training "helps people see what they're looking at," Ownby says, and it should be given very early.

"We're not creating thousands of artists, but exposing students to art and showing them what it can mean in their lives," he says. "We teach them the basic concepts, then let them use them in their own way. Who they are and what they are can be expressed in their art. We are merely sensitizing them to their own creative potential."

Art students at the three colleges are also exposed to the shows and exhibits that visit the college art galleries, making use of their training to appreciate the art, making use of the fine works displayed to further their education.

All three schools have exhibitions and sales of student art work shortly before Christmas vacation and at the end of the school year. These provide the artists with pride in showing off their work and often with modest amounts of spending money.

ON THE COVER

Art classes at Mt. San Antonio, Citrus and Chaffey colleges are experiencing a resurgence of popularity, with more than 4,000 students enrolled at the three colleges. The art department heads are less concerned with turning out young Rembrandts than in giving the students awareness and appreciation of art. At top, Ron Ownby (MSAC) works with Al Sorino and Ruth Lopez. In the middle, Robert Hallett (Citrus) gives pointers to Jean Manwarring, and at bottom, Robert Fleck, Chaffey, helps John Forbach and Debbie Semolic.

Bryant & Co. customers may shop in a well-lighted, friendly atmosphere where only the highest quality jewelry, watches and clocks are sold.

Saleswoman Iva Uribe aids Evelia Hernandez in a ring selection.

Bryant & Co. will host custom remount showing

Bryant & Co., jewelers since 1934, will host a special custom remount showing of about 5,000 mountings and a display of selected loose diamonds today at 987 W. Foothill Blvd., Claremont.

The firm established by Al Bryant was sold to the late Martin Thomas in 1955.

Mrs. Florence Thomas and her son, Alan R., last January moved from the Pomona Mall to a new location on Foothill Boulevard a short distance east of Towne Avenue.

"We hold these showings periodically, because we do our own special work ourselves," commented Thomas.

He explained that people bring their stones to the relaxing atmosphere of the store and he and his mother illustrate how the gems will look in certain settings.

Thomas learned his trade from his father, who had been in the jewelry business 50 years, and at the Gemological Institute in Los Angeles, one of only two such schools in the world. The other is in New York City.

"There I gained professional training in colored stones and diamond appraising," Thomas said.

He started working regularly for his father in 1964, but recalled his part-time work on Saturdays when he was only 10 and did such jobs as clean glass and polish silverware.

Thomas said that he feels Bryant & Co. is a "step above other jewelry stores."

He stressed that if, "we don't make it ourselves, it is something we have hand-picked."

Thomas said that Bryant & Co. has enjoyed the same customers from throughout the valley over the years, and is now enjoying a third generation of wedding ring sales.

"We can handle just about anything in jewelry," he expalined. "I can design from a sketch a customer submits."

While Thomas sells and makes jewelry, Mrs. Thomas handles the accounting and bookkeeping and is an "expert saleswoman."

Helping out in the store is Harry Culp, factory-trained in watch repair and with the firm many years, and Mrs. Iva Uribe, experienced in sales and design.

Thomas notes that the store sells Rolex, "the Rolls Royce of watches," Omega, Bulova, Accutron, and Seiko.

Bryant & Co. also sells the Black Hills gold jewelry from South Dakota, renowned for a century.

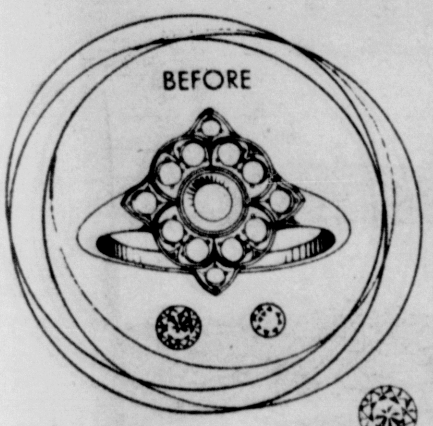

Thomas said that a new trend evident in the jewelry business is the new look in men's wear. Men are coming into the store to buy necklaces and rings for themselves and their wives.

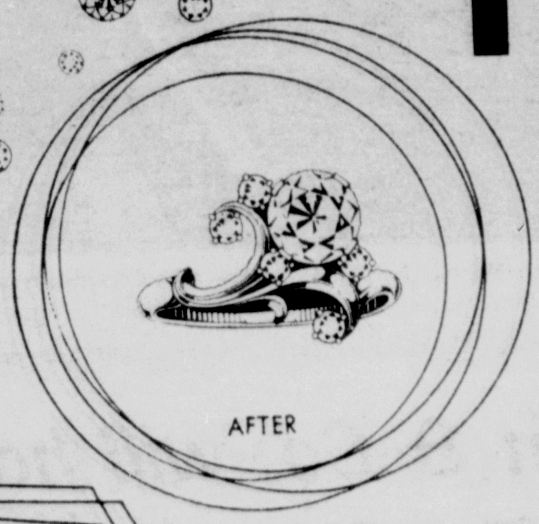

Owners Helen and Alan Thomas offer cheerful service to all customers who visit Bryant & Co.

BAND REVIEW

The third annual Montclair Festival of Bands Review parade will be held today at 10:15 a.m.

The parade route will be along San Bernardino Street, forming at Ramona to Benito avenues.

Montclair High School Principal Dean Smothers will be the reviewing officer.

Bands from 33 schools will participate. For the first time all schools in the Chaffey Union High School District will be in the lineup.

The Chaffey district high schools are Chaffey, Ontario, Alta Loma, Upland and Montclair.

VISITOR

From Gottingen, Germany — population 120,000 — comes Petra Merz to the Meyer Family and Alta Loma High School.

Through Youth for Understanding, she arrived six weeks ago to stay a year. She came, she said, because she wants to learn the language and see how the country and the people are.

Merz speaks English, is active in the S Club and plays tennis. She enjoys attending football games.

The fashions and people in Germany are very similar to those in the United States, she said.

SOCIAL LEADER

Diana Lee, senior, will serve as Chaffey High School's social chairman, heading the activities board in 1975-76.

Diana, daughter of Mrs. Aloha Lee of 510 Camelia Ave., Ontario, was elected last year by the student body. She is a member of the Pep Club, was a varsity cheerleader, and a member of the YMCA Club and La-Shuk-Ki-Ays.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Carrie McDermott, Chaffey High School senior, will serve as the 1975-76 Girls' League president at Chaffey High.

Carrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermott of 858 W. 5th St., Ontario, has held office on the Girls' League cabinet for three years.

4-H to show poultry

Participants in the Mountain View 4-H Club's poultry project recently received a visit from San Bernardino County Supervisor Robert O. Townsend who congratulated the youngsters on their success at the Los Angeles County Fair and donated a trophy to be awarded at the up-coming national show of the American Poultry Association.

Birds entered by members of the club at the Los Angeles County Fair took a total of 69 first place ribbons along with five of eight champion ratings awarded at the show.

Among the honors presented were grand champion bantam to Donna Gover, first place in showmanship to Susan Knudsen, and best in egg laying to the entire club with a new fair record of 92 eggs.

Townsend, himself a former poultry rancher and contest judge, said the results at the Los Angeles County Fair were the best in the history of the club's poultry project.

He said the club members are now working toward the national show to be held at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds in Pomona Dec. 4-7.

The supervisor said this show offers the club and other youngsters interested in raising poultry a unique opportunity to enter their birds in a national competition being held locally. He said the show has never been held in the area before and will probably not be back for 24 years.

A total of 25 trophies have been donated for the show and the deadline for entries is Nov. 15.

Further information about the national show may be obtained by contacting Joye Knudsen, Route 1, Box 126, Ontario, 983-2273.

CHS girls to edit the Tiger Rag

Seniors Cynthia Sue Walker and Mary Ann Wisniewski are co-editors this fall for the Chaffey High School student newspaper, Tiger Rag.

Cynthia, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Walker of 946 East G St. in Ontario. She is president of Quill and Scroll, the journalism club, and serves on student council as publications representative.

Mary Ann, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wisniewski of 754 East I St. in Ontario. She is vice president of Quill and Scroll and is active in dramatics on campus.

The two senior girls have been on the newspaper staff the past two years and were co-editors of the summer newspaper in 1974.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Water is our most precious resource. But it is a commodity, too, and is purchased just like other commodities.

The project proposed by the Pomona Valley Municipal Water District to increase your imported water supply has a price. Your city council and local water utility say that price is lower than the cost you might face for other means of getting the water you need.

Below are listed your tax and water bills just for imported water — these are average monthly costs for the homeowner in each town listed.

Your City	You pay today! 1975 import service	With project, you pay: 1985 import service
	Taxes/Water	Taxes/Water
Pomona	26¢/5¢	20¢/65¢
Claremont	48¢/$1.85	$1.79/$2.80
La Verne	26¢/$1.94	$1.27/$3.89
San Dimas	31¢/65¢	$1.53/$3.78
Walnut	34¢/$4.32	$1.68/$5.95
Diamond Bar	48¢/$4.32	$2.42/$7.98

Do your own math — you can see the increase in cost is very small, and the needs this water will serve are very large.

Pomona homecoming schedule set

By VALERIE GARRETT
Pomona Reporter

Pomona High School's homecoming festivities will begin this Monday, Nov. 3, and will continue through Saturday, Nov. 8. This year's theme is "Oh What A Nite".

Homecoming activities will start off with a skateboarding and pie-eating contest on Monday. Tuesday will be a three-legged race and a shoe race. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, will be 50's dress-up days.

Thursday will be leviday, featuring a tug-o-war at lunch. All of these activities will be class competitions. Friday is the day of the big rally. Students are asked to show their spirit by wearing red.

At the rally, the six finalists for the homecoming court will be announced. These six will have been narrowed down from 15 semi-finalists. They are Michelle Spotville, Debra Sims, Kim Moland, Kim Jenkins, Roberta Stiger, Bernie Flores, Teresa Escoto, Kerry Bustos, Sharon Garcia, Terry Castanon, Rhonda Bennett, Diane Rusler, Dolores Jackson, Kim Trotter and Cindy Cooksey. The grand marshall will also be announced at the rally.

Friday night, the Pomona Red Devils meet the Montclair Cavaliers on the MSAC football field.

The marching band and drill team will present a special half-time show.

The homecoming week activities will culminate in a dance on Saturday night, Nov. 8. The dance will be held at the MSAC Student Union building and will last from 8 p.m. to 12. Cost will be $4.50 per couple, $4 with ASB card per couple, $3 stag, and $2.50 with ASB card stag. Music will be provided by a local rock band.

TEEN SCOPE

Homecoming week to end at Garey

By LEE DAVENPORT
Garey Correspondent

Today marks the end of Garey High's homecoming week. The activities began with an alumni tea held Wednesday, followed by a rally and the homecoming game on Friday. A homecoming dance will be held tonight in the Garey cafeteria from 8-12 p.m.

Friday's game took place at Cal Poly, pitting the Garey Vikings against the Damien Spartans. (For the results and a review of the game, turn to today's sports section.) At halftime, the band played a selection of "bicentennial" songs. Entertainment also was provided by fire baton twirlers and a visit to the proceedings by characters from "The Wizard of Oz."

The highlight of the program was the presentation of this year's homecoming court and the announcement for the first time of the queen, Cathy Beard.

Seven girls are on this year's homecoming court: Queen Cathy Beard and princesses Bernadette Duran, Tina Garcia, Regina Hines, Alice Lopez, Irene Lopez, and Miyuki Mori.

These girls were elected from among all senior girls by the senior men to reign at the homecoming festivities.

In addition to the qualities which caused them to be elected to the court, the girls are active in many school organizations. Miss Beard is a member of the FHA and the Drama Club, and is manager for the women's tennis team. Miss Duran has been a Junior Varsity cheerleader. Miss Garcia is an active Mecha member. Miss Hines belongs to the BSU and Business Club, and is a senior class representative. Miss Alice Lopez is a Mecha member and is ASB social chairman and senior class treasurer. Miss Irene Lopez is Mecha secretary, a Business Club member, a senior representative, and a varsity flag girl.

Miss Mori plays varsity volleyball, is a varsity cheerleader, is on the student council, and plays on the school tennis team.

The theme of this year's homecoming is "Bicentennial Dream." This is in keeping not only with the fact that this year's seniors are the "class of '76," but also with the school's desire to truly observe our "bicentennial year."

In honor of this, the football team has been wearing new helmets this year, which have "1776" emblazoned on the sides.

San Dimas High Opens 'Our Town'

By DEE-DEE JERNIGAN
San Dimas
Correspondent

Opening Nov. 6, San Dimas High's Blackmask Theatre will present "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder.

"Our Town" is produced and directed by Sonya Urquhart.

Portraying the leading role "Stage Manager" is Dale Brahs. Others in the cast are Wendy Weborg, Curtis Farhat, Laura Lily, Brad Garland, Cindy Holtz and Pete Williams.

The story of "Our Towne" is a classic, written in the early 1900's. The play concerns the love affair between young George Gibbs (Curt Farhat) and little Emily Webb (Wendy Weborg) that culminates in a moving wedding scene, which contains all those elements of poignant sorrow and abundent happiness that make for solemnity and impressiveness.

The Blackmask Theatre is located at the San Dimas campus, Room G-4. Curtaintime is 8 p.m. Cost will be adults $1.50, with ASB card $1.25, children $1.

THE LAW

Next semester San Dimas High will be offering a new class about the laws of your community.

This particular class will be worth five credits and will cover actual material such as bookwork and as instituted ride-along class, where you the student travel to San Dimas sheriff department and check out it s facilities.

Sgt. Tyco of the San Dimas sheriff community relations will represent this program. Dep. Marbello along with other officers, will hold talk sessions daily at noon in the leadership room. The class will be taught by a certified teacher and will be offered as an elective.

The "Law and You" class hopes to cover the right of you as an individual, and make people aware of their community.

Any student at SDHS will have the alternative of taking advantage of this opportunity.

Spirit Week at GHS

By JANENE WHITNEY
Ganesha Correspondent

"Spirit Week" has been the title of the week at Ganesha High School. Organized to promote school spirit and student participation, Spirit Week has included noontime activities such as a guy-girl piggyback race, a grape gulp, and a Halloween dress-up day.

Also included in the Spirit Week activities was a picnic luncheon, hosted by Ganesha, Thursday. The luncheon, which included Claremont High School's Student Council, was organized by the two neighboring schools as a gesture of good will and better public relations. Claremont Student Council also attended the Ganesha pep rally on Thursday in the gym.

Rally chairmen Mary Mosco and Rebecca Whitney organized and planned Spirit Week, as members of the Ganesha Student Council.

Queen Mary 'sinking'

LONG BEACH (AP) — The City Council has scheduled a public hearing on a proposal to use public funds to operate the financially troubled Queen Mary as a nonprofit corporation.

The council on Tuesday set Nov. 20 for the hearing after the city manager asked to be allowed to find a consulting firm "to take a fresh look" at the ocean liner, now seeing service as a tourist attraction and hotel.

The complex has run into financial problems and suggestions have been made that a single operator take over the operation, possibly as a nonprofit corporation providing a tax break.

Musical notes

By STEPHEN FORD

In celebration of the birth of a son and a New York Appeals Court decision blocking his deportation, John Lennon is releasing a collection of his better material. The album is "Shaved Fish!" After recording their last LP in Nashville, those boogeying Country & Western belles, the Pointer Sisters, have been nominated for the Country Music Assn.'s Vocal Group of the Year award . . . Magna Contemptus: In a display of either very feeble humor or incipient senility during his recent Las Vegas show, Frank Sinatra departed from Stevie Wonder's lyrics for "Sunshine of My Life" to ad lib "You are the pizza of my life."

For Chronic Overachievement: Britain's prestigious Melody Maker announced that Led Zeppelin swept its annual reader's music poll by turning up first in seven categories, an unprecedented accomplishment . . . Leon Russell has joined the fold of musicians guesting on Rolling Stones' bassist Billy Wyman's next solo album . . . Updating a B. Franklin homily, fish, visitors and anything remotely associated with the movie "Jaws" begins to stink after three days. With their noses to the air, Black Oak Arkansas opens each show during its current 60-city concert tour with the Jaws soundtrack theme over the PA system. Proving the Doppler Effect's most primitive application, BOA's intro melody must be in emulation of the Aaron Copland fanfare opening each show during the recent Stones' tour.
